DIVISION OF MEN TO BE DISCUSSED

War Council to Appoint Committee to Examine Question of West Front Apportionment

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS NEXT

Will be Taken up at Tomorrow's Session of Peace Conference—Other Subjects Coming Up

(By United Press.)

Paris, Jan. 24.—The supreme war council today decided to appoint a committee to examine the question of apportionment of forces to be maintained on the western front during the period of the armistice.

President Wilson has selected the American representatives on the commission which is to confer with delegates of the various Russian factions at Prince Island. They will be announced today.

The other associated powers were understood to be showing similar speed in preparing to undertake solution of the problem. No work has yet been received from the Soviet government in response to wireless message announcing the allied proposal.

The league of nations will be formally taken up at tomorrow's session of the general peace congress, it was learned from reliable sources today.

Much of the work in preparing drafts of the various nations' program for the league is being done by delegates outside the joint meeting and it was expected the preliminaries would be in such shape as to permit full discussion of the broad outlines of plans tomorrow. It was reported that neither American nor British plans would be presented in their entirety tomorrow. Apparently President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George will wait until the other programs are submitted and discussed then they will bring forth their complete program of their delegates.

Among other subjects to be discussed tomorrow are: responsibility and punishment for the war; reparation for war damages; international labor legislation and the international status of ports, waterways and railways. In connection with the latter proposition it is believed the Dardanelles, the Bosphorus and Constantinople will be considered. A move is expected to internationalize that era, that here may be an open exit from the Black Sea, assuring continuous access to Russia's wheat for the world.

"FLU" IS RAMPANT IN SOUTHERN RUSH

Milroy Schools Remain Closed and May Not be Reopened Before Next Fall, It is Stated

THREE TOWNS ARE AFFLICTED

The influenza malady is still spreading in Milroy and vicinity, there being a total of 261 cases which have been treated by the three Milroy physicians. The school has been closed since Monday and as five of the eleven teachers are ill of the malady, it is doubtful whether the school will be continued before next fall. Sandusky and Clarksburg also have the epidemic, the schools of both places having been closed. There are about 50 cases in the former place and thirty-six in the latter.

Rushville seems to have had her "dose" as no new cases were reported today. Only one case has been reported since last Tuesday, and there have been no new cases reported to the county health officer since that time.

WILL WELCOME INQUIRY

War Department is Ready For a Congressional Investigation

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—The war department will welcome a congressional investigation either into the affairs of the department or the conduct of the office, Secretary of War Baker and Chief of Staff March told the house rules committee today. As this week is taken, Baker promised full information and that testimony of officers who have been in France would be made as soon as possible. Baker declared, however, that the investigation was difficult at this time because the officers who had information as well as documents were still overseas.

JOHN HECKMAN, GASED ON AUGUST 22, IS HOME

Returns on Same Vessel With Russell Dearing, Who Was Wounded by Shrapnel October 17

LATTER WAS IN HOSPITAL

John Heckman, who was gassed while in action on the west front August 22, 1918, has been discharged from the service and has arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heckman, northwest of the city. He received his discharge at Camp Sherman, O.

Not until he arrived home did his parents know the nature of his injuries. Private Heckman never mentioned in his letters after he had been returned to duty, how he had happened to be sent to the hospital, and his parents were worried when they received the official government report, October 7, that their son had been wounded severely in action. Private Heckman shows no ill effects now of having been gassed.

He landed at Newport News, Virginia, January 3 after being eleven days on the water. He did not discover until the vessel had almost reached this side, that Private Russell J. Dearing, Company D, 115th Infantry, former Rushville rural mail carrier, was on the same ship. Private Dearing sustained a wound in the back of the head from shrapnel October 17 and was still in the hospital at Newport News when Private Heckman left.

HUTCHERSON TRIED BEFORE A JURY TODAY

Liberty Man Who Sued City For $500 Damages, Accused of Speeding and Intoxication

SPECIAL JUDGE HEARS CASE

Grover Hutcherson of Liberty was tried in mayor's court this afternoon before a jury on charges of speeding and intoxication, which were the outgrowth of an accident March 23, 1918, when Hutcherson ran into a traffic post with his automobile at the corner of Morgan and Second streets. A suit by Hutcherson against the city for $500 damages, is pending in the circuit court, Hutcherson having alleged that the city was to blame because there was no light over the traffic post. The case is now at issue on an amended complaint.

Hutcherson was arrested a week ago yesterday and brought here. He pleaded not guilty and demanded a change of judge, which was granted, T. M. Green being appointed by Mayor Irvin to hear the case. The jury was composed of the following: Lon Link, Vern Norris, Ora Cline, Charles Hugo, George C. Wyatt, A. L. Aldridge, Charles Leisure, Alvan Moor, George C. Wyatt, Guy Gordon, Greely McCarty and J. B. Farthing.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE GIVEN CLEAR PATH

Difficulty Threatened by Conflict Between Amendment and Van-Auken Bill Ironed Out

TO COME TO VOTE THURSDAY

Committee Reports Favorably on Amendment Bill to Make Attorney General Appointive

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., January 24.—Woman suffrage legislation was given a clear path in the senate today. The difficulty threatened by the conflict between the amendment to the constitution giving women the right to vote offered by Sen. Beardley, and Senator Van Auken was eliminated by the committee on constitutional amendment.

The Beardley resolution was amended so that the clause applies. The registration was stricken out. This will allow the resolution presented by Van Auken to stand. Van Auken's proposed registration bill provides that changes so that registration applies for cities of more than 25,000, thus eliminating chief difficulties with the present registration system. It would also provide that a voter must pay poll tax before he is allowed to cast his ballot.

The Beardley amendment was made the special order of business for Thursday morning at eleven o'clock.

Senator Strode presented a measure providing for non-partisan election of judges. Paying of county officers salaries monthly instead of quarterly is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Laney.

Reports of committees include one favoring passage of the amendment bill providing for appointment instead of election of the attorney general.

The house passed the Mallot bill providing that township lines cannot be changed without vote of the people and the Miller bill apportioning funds for the G. A. R. work. The Cooper bill providing that county commissioners must give a $500 bond was killed.

Representative Buchanan introduced a bill providing for establishment of a state movie censor board to be composed of three members and deputies who may be appointed by the governor.

All films would have to be approved by the board and fees would be charged for censoring films. A bill providing for inspection of buildings by the mayor in cities which have no building inspectors was introduced by Representative McKinley, of Muncie.

A bill preventing injunction being issued against strikers was introduced by Representative Bidaman. It is sponsored by the Federation of Labor. Representative Kessler introduced a bill appropriating $3,500 for the erection of a memorial in the state house to the men and women who gave their lives in the war with Germany.

CONTINUE ATTACK

Washington, Jan. 24.—Continuing their attack on the $100,000,000 famine fund bill, senators opposing it today charged that it is to the interest not only of pork packers but of food producers generally to see reduction of prices ahead unless something is done to keep the high cost of living on the present plane.

SEED WORTH $700 STOLEN

When W. U. Barrett, a business man of Morristown, went to examine a quantity of clover seed which he bought recently, he found that it had been stolen and the sacks which contained the seed filled with straw. It is not known when the theft occurred. The seed, which was valued at $700 was stored in the rear room of his building.

NOT TO BE TREATED AS AN IDLE STORY

Gospel is Not Childish as Some Say, Declares Dr. J. S. Hill at U. P. Church

IT IS NOT TO BE POSTPONED

Minister Recalls Experience of Paul Preaching to the People of Athens

That the gospel story is not an idle tale to be postponed for consideration in the future, was the declaration last night of the Rev. James S. Hill of Richmond, who is conducting evangelistic services at the First United Presbyterian church. The sermon on the subject, "Strange Things," was based on the experiences of Paul preaching to the people of Athens.

Unusual interest is being shown in the meetings, according to Dr. Hill, and the attendance is large. A prayer meeting preceding the regular service will be held at seven o'clock this evening. The minister spoke in part as follows last night:

"Paul came to the seashore at Troas. He cast longing eyes across the blue waters of the Hellespont, toward Europe in the distance. He dreamed the strange dream of winning that country for Christ. In the hours of the night his dream became a command. The men from Macedonia stood before him, and said, 'Come over into Macedonia and help us.' We have schools and colleges and scholars and statesmen and philosophers, but with it all we are dying. We no longer know what purity is. Our civilization is corrupt to its very core. The next morning Paul and Silas and Luke and Timothy, left the seashore at Troas and crossed the sea to Europe. There was no one to bid them goodspeed, and there was no one one to welcome them on the other side. Yet these men were going to the shores of Europe on the greatest enterprise that ever carried men from one country to another.

"Paul with his companions is carrying the gospel of Jesus Christ to the civilized but dying nations of Europe, stopping for a time at Philippi, and Corinth he finally reaches Athens, the capital of Greece. While waiting in the city his heart is deeply stirred because of its idolatry. It was said there were as many gods as men in Greece. He began to teach and to reason with the people on the streets concerning Jesus Christ. The men of Athens said, here is a babbler, a trifler. Yet there was something in the message Paul brought which attracted their attention. Then they came to him and said, 'Thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.'

"Then they took Paul to the Areopagus, the public forum of Greece. Here the great and wise men of Greece, had taught their tenets and philosophers. Paul is given the opportunity to bring his message to these men. He was permitted to tell them new and strange things. For the Athenians and strangers sojourning there spent their time in nothing else but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

"In answer to this challenge Paul preaches unto them Jesus and the resurrection and the judgment. He presents the coming of Christ into the world as the greatest and strangest event in its history. He must have told them of the birth and life and death of Jesus. After Paul has related his story and revealed the plan of salvation, he says, 'God commands all men everywhere to repent, because He hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness.'

"Paul, the thinker and the reasoner, was not ashamed nor afraid to preach the gospel of Christ in the most refined and cultured city in the world.

HE WOULD NOT SEAT BERGER

Rep. Gillett, Member of House Will Not Allow Him to Qualify

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—The first open opposition to seating Victor Berger of Wisconsin as a member of the house came in a statement from Representative Gillett of Massachusetts, candidate for speaker in the next congress.

Gillett said that the refusal to seat Berger should be the very first action of the next house because Berger was found guilty of charges of disloyalty. "The conviction of the country generally approves the verdict of the jury, and his actions are sufficient manifestations to disqualify him from congress," said Gillett.

APPROPRIATIONS OF COUNCIL LEGALIZED

County Body Spends The Afternoon Trying to Get Quorum and Finally is Successful

ONE ITEM IS CUT DOWN $2,000

The appropriations for the expense of the special election on the hospital question February 25, for the redecoration of the interior of the court house and for other items of county expense, were legalized late yesterday afternoon when a quorum of the county council was finally brought together.

The meeting lacked one of a quorum early in the afternoon and the councilmen present expected R. P. Havens of this city to put in an appearance, as it was easier for him to attend than a member living outside of Rushville. An effort was made to find him, but to no avail. It was reported that Mr. Havens was opposed to the appropriation for the expense of the hospital election. Finally, in order to make the appropriations of Wednesday legal, Hiram Henley of Carthage, a member of the council, came down from Carthage in an automobile and made a quorum.

The appropriation of $10,000 for redecoating the court house interior, which was passed on first reading Wednesday, was cut down $2,000 yesterday, making the total appropriations only $21,200.05. In addition to items already mentioned was one for $500 for taking the school enumeration.

WORK OF THE DRAFT BOARD ABOUT DONE

Registration Cards and Questionnaires Being Stamped With Board's Code Number

RECORDS TO BE SEALED AGAIN

The local army selection board is now completing what is expected to be its last task. Having stamped all of the registration cards with the board's code number, George B. Moore, Jr., clerk of the board, is now stamping the questionnaires preparatory again to filing them away and sealing them.

The board once before sealed all of the records of the draft in this county, in accordance with instructions, but in the meantime the provost marshal's office sent out a lot of new instructions which made necessary the breaking of the seals.

Before wrapping the records of the board, including all correspondence, the board will make an inventory of all articles included in each parcel. The board is instructed to hold the records and the inventories until an inspector arrives, or for further instructions. It is believed by the board that no inspector will be sent, but that orders will come to ship all the records.

CAMPAIGN START TO BE AUSPICIOUS

Every Prospect of Armenian and Syrian Relief Fund Being Oversubscribed Next Week

Work of The Committee in The Near East is Endorsed by The American Red Cross

With the organization completed in every township in the county, the campaign to raise Rush county's quota of $4,950 for the relief of the persecuted peoples of the Near East will get under way in earnest tomorrow when the campaign will be opened officially.

The first meeting in the interest of the campaign will be held at Osborn school in Jackson township tonight at seven o'clock and will be at the Main Street Christian church here Sunday afternoon and Sunday night and union meeting will be held at Manilla for the purpose of raising Walker township's quota.

The campaign opens under the most favorable circumstances, with two townships having already reached their allotments and others well on the way towards the goal. Anderson and Washington townships reported to the county chairman, Walter Frazee, that they have enough in their war funds to meet their quotas and Rushville township is estimated to have at least half of its share of the county's quota. Ripley township, too, is more than half way over.

Plans have been formed to make the meeting at the Christian church Sunday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock one of county wide interest. The address will be delivered by Captain C. K. Morse, who was with the Canadians overseas for more than two years. He has made a special study of the conditions in the near east and is well qualified to speak on the subject. He is making addresses in a number of places in the state this week. Rushville fraternal orders have been invited to attend the meeting in a body and some of them are preparing to accept the invitation.

Judge Will M. Sparks will preside at the mass meeting here, according to the program announced today, and Homer Cole will lead the singing. After a number by the orchestra the audience will sing "America" and the invocation will be pronounced by Dr. D. Ira Lamber, Janet Dean, Gladys Titsworth and Mary Louise Wyatt will render a violin trio and the audience will sing "Hail Somebody Today." Following the address of the afternoon at three o'clock, the county chairman, Walter E. Frazee, will talk briefly on answering the call in Rush county, and the Rev. L. E. Brown on answering the call in Rushville township. The meeting will adjourn at four o'clock.

The ministers of Rush county have been requested to discuss the subject in their pulpits Sunday so that it will be brought to the attention of the people of the county by every avenue of publicity possible.

The people of Rush county may know that their contributions will be wisely and judiciously spent in the administration of relief in the Near East because the committee has the endorsement of the Red Cross. The American Red Cross has placed the work of relief in the hands of the American Committee of the Armenian and Syrian Relief not only because this committee has administered so intelligently and efficiently to the sufferers under Turkish rule, but it is the only agency except the Red Crescent, which is controlled by the Turkish government, that has an organization in the field prepared to carry on relief and reconstruction work as soon as funds and material are available.

CROP REPORT FOR 1918 MADE OUT

Year Just Past has Been a Remarkable One in Many Respects for Farmer.

CROPS TOTAL $465,000,000.

Acreage Devoted to Five Principal Crops in Rush County is Estimated at 170,000.

The bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture has made out a crop report for Indiana for the year 1918. The year just closed has been a remarkable one, in many respects for the farmers of Indiana. On a request by the national government to increase the production of crops and livestock they went to work with courage and patriotism to comply, knowing that labor was scarce and probably would be hard to get at any rate.

Their efforts were rewarded by harvesting the largest crops of rye, wheat, oats, barely and buckwheat ever produced in the state. The acreage of corn was large but weather conditions, together with inferior seed, much of which was shipped in from Missouri and other eastern states, resulted in smaller crop than usual, but the price and quality of the corn was good, and from a monetary standpoint it was the best ever produced, notwithstanding the yield was 3.3 below the ten year average.

More hogs sheep and cattle were produced than for many years previous. The hay acreage and yield was above average, but it was harvested under favorable conditions and to a great extent is still on the farms. Clover seed was probably the greatest disappointment of all crops; only 1.3 bushels to the acre being harvested; tobacco was about normal for both acreage and production. Tree fruits were almost a failure, except in the commercial orchards, and truck crops and potatoes were a little better than an average crop.

The total average of all crops produced on Indiana farms during 1918 was approximately $465,000,000. The total value of all live stock on Indiana farms December 31 was approximately $325,000,000. The total value of all crops produced in the United States in 1918 was approximately $12,275,000,000.

It is estimated in the report that the acreage devoted to the five principal crops in Rush county was as follows: wheat, 46,600; rye, 5,700; oats, 11,700; corn, 89,300; tame hay 25,700.

ADOPT HOPEWELL SLOGAN

Union City Sees Sad Fate in Store For it.

(By United Press.)

Union City, Ind., Jan. 24.—Union City now faces the possibility of following the path of Hopewell, Va., which adopted the slogan "built in six months; destroyed by fire in six hours; rebuilt in six weeks and ruined in six minutes." Hopewell depended upon gun cotton and it died with the signing of the armistice. Union City has thrived upon the demands of thirsty Hoosiers who have been pouring into the city nightly since Indiana enlisted in the prohibition forces. With Ohio about to go dry, the outlook for Union City is not promising, according to the belief of some. Others however fail to agree with this opinion and already hope is expressed by many, especially those on the Indiana side of the state line, that national prohibition will become effective before May when the Buckeye state will go dry.

FIFTH LIBERTY LOAN DATA IS PUBLISHED

Second Anniversary of Entrance into the War May be Designated as Starting Time.

TO ASK FOR $5,000,000,000.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Opening of the fifth liberty loan campaign April 6, the second anniversary of America's entrance into the war against Germany, is under consideration by treasury officials, but no decision has been reached. It will be known as the Victory Liberty loan, Secretary Glass announced yesterday.

The third liberty loan drive started April 6, 1918, the first anniversary. It is planned to have the campaign run for three weeks and to ask for between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000. Whether the interest rate will be higher than the 4 1/2 percent borne by the last issue depends partly on the movement of the market price of liberty bonds during the next two months. The bonds will be of short maturity, in the neighborhood of five years.

Advertising posters for the fifth loan have been partially chosen, and organizers already are making preliminary plans for sales campaigns. Motion pictures and public speakers will be used extensively.

Naturalists state that serpents can live six months or longer without food.

ARLINGTON INSTITUTE IS A GREAT SUCCESS

CASH PRIZES IN CORN SHOW

The third of a series of farmers institutes being held throughout the county was held yesterday and the evening of the day before at Arlington. Music was furnished by the Downey orchestra and those who did not attend the meeting missed a great treat, it is reported. Officers were elected for the next year as follows: president Albert J. Reddick, vice-president Warren H. Young, secretary-treasurer Charles Marshall. Those elected on the women's committee were: president Mrs. Sween, vice-president Mrs. A. J. Reddick, secretary-treasurer Mrs. John M. Hubbard.

The speakers for the occasion were Mrs. Hortense Moore, W. T. Martindale and Mrs. Fordney of Shelby County. A five acre prize corn contest has been planned for next year and Hutchinson and son have offered twenty-five dollars as a cash prize to the winner.

The session at Moscow today began at 9:30 o'clock with plenty of music on the program. Two addresses were made by Mrs. Moore and W. T. Martindale, both morning and evening. The appointment of committees took place just before noon and a report by the various committees was given just after noon, followed by the reading of the minutes of the institute a year ago.

Cash prizes will be given on both white and yellow corn, in single ears and ten ear lots. The corn show was open to exhibitors from Orange township. Ribbons will be awarded as prizes.

MRS. JUDAS LEVI IS DEAD

Expires at Her Home Here of Paralysis After 11 Years Illness

Susan Levi, wife of Judas Levi died last night at 8:35 at her home in West Water street, following an illness of eleven years, being compelled to remain in bed the last year, by the paralysis. Mrs. Levi would have been seventy years old in June. Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Thomas and Jesse, of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Sweet and Mrs. Charles Gregg, also of this city. The funeral service will be held at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home with burial in East Hill cemetery.

NECESSITY

Is The Mother Of Invention

The only really new principles in the spreader building in the last fifteen years were introduced by the Litchfield Mfg. Co., and are found on RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreaders. Everyone of them is of commanding importance.

First among these is the conveyor which can't clog or slip under a load. Look at the cut above and see the swinging sections. Any material leaking through from the load can't lodge, but drops to the ground. You can't find another one like it.

If you could look into the box you would see that the rear edge of every slat is raised just above the one preceding it, forming a traction cleat making it impossible for the conveyor to move back with taking the load with it, thus giving it a FORCE-FEED. This overcomes every objection to the endless apron and knocks into "SMITHERS" the arguments of the advocates of return aprons with attendant reverse gears, traps and triggers.

FIFTEEN YEARS FROM NOW after Litchfield's patents expire all other kinds of conveyors will be a thing of the past. What other spreaders will be in fifteen years from now the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader is today.

FIFTEEN YEARS FROM NOW all spreaders will be using the BULL DOG cylinder and NO CHOKE BOX—but we'll tell you about them later. Don't wait for us to tell you but come in and see the machine yourself. There are a whole lot of things about the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader, that we cannot explain in print—we have to show you. IT'S GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS!

"Three Mounted Men"

Would you trust your heart to a girl who made her living singing and dancing in a frontier drinking place? In "Three Mounted Men," the masterful Universal feature in which Harry Carey appears with Neva Gerber, a man does this very thing, with full confidence in her worthiness. Lola wasn't a bad girl at heart and she became a professional dance hall girl so she could support her mother and herself. Her brother, Buck Masters, was a convict serving a term in jail. One day Bill came back to the little frontier town and found Lola. He determined she should not sing or dance for drunken miners any more. He planned a stage coach robbery and—

When Buck left the prison he was at odds with the warden's son over some dishonest manipulation of prison accounts. Soon after the warden's son sent Cheyenne Harry after him. Harry went to the little town where Buck's sister and mother lived. He met Lola and fell in love with her. How the forger was apprehended through the efforts of Cheyenne Harry, but released by him later, is shown in "The Three Mounted Men," which comes to the Mystic tonight.

Last Time For Fairbanks

One of the most imposing sets ever built for any motion picture production is the one that was built for Douglas Fairbanks', new art-craft photoplay, "He Comes up Smiling," which will be shown at the Princess theatre again tonight. This set represents a complete house with the fourth wall removed, showing ten rooms, including parlor, study, dining room, kitchen, bath and bedrooms. Every room is furnished lavishly.

In this house, the various prisoners of Jerry the tramp, the part played by Mr. Fairbanks, are incarcerated until the startling denouement causes their release and the general clearing up of a complicated and grotesquely humorous story. The picture provides the athletic star with abundant material for obtaining laughs and it is needless to say that he has not failed to take advantage of the opportunities provided him.

Mr. Fairbanks essays the role of a sublimated tramp, a modern Quixote, who sets to rights a series of business intrigues and accidentally wins a bride for himself. His leading woman is Marjorie Daw. The support generally is excellent.

PERSONNEL COURSE HAS BEEN PICTURED

Method by Which 3,665,000 Men Are Classified is On Exhibition In Washington

FITTED FOR A CERTAIN TASK

Washington, Jan. 24.—Methods by which 3,665,000 men were classified by the army personnel machinery so that each was assigned to the task for which he was fitted by education and experience are graphically pictured in an exhibition at the War Department. An illustration of the results obtained was given in the statement that nine months were required for the first divisions organized to reach the point of efficiency necessary for overseas work, whereas only three months were required for the last divisions formed.

Charts, diagrams and photographs arranged around the walls of several rooms showed the course of the new recruit from the moment he stepped off the train until he was finally assigned to his ultimate place with the combat units or in some one of the 714 occupational specialties.

When each soldier arrived at camp he made out a card, on which he gave his occupation. The men laying claim to proficiency in any trade were put through tests to prove their claim.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MARINES HAVE TAKEN CHARGE OF ARCHANGLE

American Soldiers Are Patrolling the Streets in an at Home Manner

FOOD SITUATION CRITICAL

London, Dec. 30. (By Mail).—American marines have taken over the policing of the city of Archangel, according to J. P. Steele, American military attache who returned today from Archangel.

American movies are doing a big business in Archangel, Steele said. The night before he left he saw a line in front of a theater showing a well-known American picture.

The American soldiers are patrolling the strange streets of the Arctic city with an much of an "at home" air as if they were doing duty in St. Louis. The city is under military government.

Although order is maintained, the food situation still is critical. The quantities of foodstuffs shipped in by the allies are to a great extent out of the reach of the poor, owing to prices.

Steele had to pay 50 rubles for an ordinary dinner and 30 rubles for a breakfast of coffee, bread and porridge.

BOYS TO HELP RAISE FOOD

Director of Boy's Working Reserve Pushing Drive For Enrollment

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23.—Isaac D. Straus, federal state director for the United States Boys' Working Reserve is pushing forward the drive for enrollment of every available boy between the ages of 16 and 21 years to assist in increasing the food production in Indiana during the coming year.

More than fifty high schools of the state have already reported an organization which is assisting in the drive for enrollment. Boys enrolling in the reserve will not be called for duty before June, thus avoiding conflict with school work, according to the plan as announced by Straus.

Good Results of Criticism.

As a result of the repeated demands for a change in the management of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, the professional "efficiency expert" under whose supervision the affairs of the bureau went from bad to worse, has been superseded by an army officer who has promised to send allotment checks to soldiers' dependents with as little delay as possible. Col. Lindsley, the new chief, has told the senate military committee that he will hold greater speed in getting out the money in the future.

A recent report from Secretary of the Treasury Glass gives some idea of the present state of affairs at the war risk office. Of the 2,500,000 checks for dependents' allotments and allowances deducted from soldiers' pay for November and December, only 930,000 have been mailed thus far. In order to catch up with the work checks for the two months are being written simultaneously in many cases and Mr. Glass predicts that before the end of January the work will be up to date.

Sap and Salt

By BERT MOSES

Opinion has two sides, but Truth has only one.

Hate and revenge, I am told, were invented by lawyers.

The things that we most fear are things we do not understand.

The way to get people to run after you is to give them a good run for their money.

Joys would not be recognized as joys if troubles were not sandwiched in between to supply contrast.

If husbands would give their wives less advice and more allowance—well, wouldn't it be an improvement?

Hez Heck says: "To judge a man's morals by his salary is as uncertain as to judge a woman's mentality by her millinery."

If the promised improvement materializes it may be claimed very properly by the Republicans that it is due to their persistence in airing the conditions at the bureau, and citing some of the many glaring instances of inefficiency that have characterized the conduct of that office. In practically every case their criticisms have been answered by the demerits, by statements of the immense amount of work thrown upon the bureau soon after its creation and the impossibility of attending to it all without some delay. The recent change in executives is an admission of failure in the past and of the truth of the repeated assertions of the critics.

The New Prophet

A paen from the more or less Reverend Billy Sunday, against the ratification of the prohibition amendment:

"The rain of tears is over. The slums will soon be memory. We will turn our prisons into factories, our jails into storehouses and corncribs. Men will walk upright now, women will smile, children will laugh, hell will be for rent."

Maybe this is not literally true. Poetry and prophecy seldom are. But alike all inspired utterances, it shows the ideal and the gladsome trend toward its attainment. And let it not be for a reproach to the Reverend Billy that he has merely modernized a great and glorious prophet of old. Could Isiah himself have said it better?

A Little far Fetched But—

The selfish ambition of an unprincipled ruler has made itself felt from one end of the world to the other, and has produced results far beyond intention or expectation.

For instance, Dr. Robertson, the head of the Chicago health department estimates that of the 400,000 deaths from influenza and pneumonia in this country, one half could have been prevented if the sufferers had had skilled nursing. This is it was impossible to supply, for the army had required 20,000 trained nurses to meet its needs. This left at home barely enough experienced nurses for ordinary times, and when the epidemic arrived the scarcity of nurses was immediately felt.

The people who died on account of insufficient care in sickness were as truly victims of the Prussian military system as if they had died on the field of battle.

Among the divorces which threaten the home life of America there is none more serious than the divorce between the dollar and its purchasing power.

It is to be hoped that the American soldiers now in Russia are North Dakotans. Those boys would sooner fight in the snow than shovel it.

The things distinctively Russian are pony coats, blouses, Bolsheviks and problems.

The Kaiser and the crown prince now realize what it is to be "in Dutch."

ials are placed in their hands.

The American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief was organized in October, 1915, for the purpose of securing immediate relief for the Armenians and Syrians, cabled reports of whose persecutions were at that time just beginning to reach this country. Three years ago, American Consul Smith cabled from Tiflis that the American Committee was besieged by appeals from all districts, delegations of hungry people coming long distances begging for bread and refusing to leave without food or promises.

Recently Stephen V. Trowbridge, Chairman of the Red Cross chapter in Cairo, wired that 2 Armenian exiles had arrived at Port Said after inconceivable suffering and two and a half year's wandering through the mountains of Asia Minor and the Arabian desert. Two hundred and twenty-seven of their number had perished on the way. There are 40,000 destitute in Teheran alone, people eating dead animals and women abandoning their infants.

Red Cross workers have corroborated the stories of Turkish atrocities told by missionaries and other eyewitnesses. Two Danish Red Cross nurses who were formerly in the German hospital at Erindjan include in their reports an account of the sufferings of the Armenians as well as of their own hardships because of their friendless to this persecuted people. These nursing sisters were dismissed from the hospital because they had befriended the Armenians and when they appealed to the German consul, he gave no help. A Red Cross druggist on the hospital staff, who expressed his horror of the Turkish cruelties that were being perpetrated, was also immediately dismissed.

NEW DIVISION HAS BEEN CREATED

Organized for The Purpose of Interesting Nation in Public Works And Private Construction

WILL SURVEY CONDITIONS

To be Made With View of Learning How Labor and Capital May be Profitably Employed

Washington, Jan. 24.—A new division has been created in the department of labor for the purpose of interesting the nation in public work and private construction. Secretary Wilson announces that the new service will gather and distribute information that will enable private initiative to make the transition from a war to peace basis without serious interruption, due to lack of data on which business judgment must depend.

A survey of business conditions will be made with a view to learning how labor and capital may be profitably employed during the critical period when factories are being made over for peace production and markets are being canvassed for future outputs.

The division which will carry on this work is now being organized by F. T. Miller, the publisher of construction periodicals, as a section of the department's information and education service, of which Roger W. Babson is chief. The new organization is called the division of public works and construction development, and occupies the building at 16 Jackson Place.

The particular objective of the bureau's research will be to secure data for the use of the construction industry, but the material to be collected will be so varied that the information will be of value to industry generally. The facts made available will be of help to any community or investor indetermining whether it is advisable to undertake public or private building at present. When circumstances unfavorable to construction are discovered an attempt may be made to correct them, but there will be no stimulation of economically unsound enterprise.

The inquiry will be under the direction of business men of wide practical experience who are serving without pay. The actual investigation will be conducted by a group of economists and special agents supplied by the Department of Labor and other Government departments or lent by universities. The field will include the cost and supply of building materials, the amount of labor available and its cost, the values of land, prevailing rents, the supply of capital, the amount of construction held up by the war and the demand for building in all parts of the country.

APPEAL BY GOVERNOR FOR RELIEF IN THE NEAR EAST

Our armies are victorious and our heroic American soldiers are coming home. With Danger of Prussianizing the world is gone and gone forever. With the military Victory we have won the moral victory, too, and with it we have assumed a moral obligation.

In the Belgium of Asia four million Christian and Jews are face to face with death from starvation, a deplorable condition resulting from the ravages of war and the cruel and inhuman persecution of these unfortunate people.

More men are slain in massacres of Armenians and Syrians by the Turks than fell fighting in the trenches. Those who survive are now in imminent danger of starvation and of these 400,000 are little children.

Armenians are a race without a national government. The people cannot borrow relief funds from America because no representatives exist who are qualified to pledge the country's income to liquidate the debt. The four million who will die unless relieved this winter can look only to America.

The work of the Committee for Relief in the Near East is endorsed by the President, by the National and Indiana Councils of Defense.

Thirty million dollars are to be raised in the United States in January. Indiana's quota is $629,172, or the amount necessary to save 21,000 lives. Unless we do our share, so many people will perish.

I desire to ask, therefore, that the period from January 25 to January 31 will be utilized in Indiana for registering our generosity and our answer to this pitiful appeal. We must not abandon to starvation the lives our boys fought to save.

REVIVAL TO OPEN AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Evangelistic Meetings will be in Charge of A. P. Renn of Indianapolis, Beginning Sunday.

Both are Qualified for Work, Having Been Associated With Dr. Beiderwolf in Meetings.

Revival meetings will open at the First Baptist church Sunday, with Evangelist A. P. Renn in charge, assisted by Henry A. Bockemeyer, singer. Both have been associated with Dr. Beiderwolf in some of his great union tabernacle evangelistic campaigns.

HENRY A. BOCKEMEYER.

Mr. Renn is a college and seminary graduate. He spent a few years in the pastorate before he entered the evangelistic work and understands intimately the pastor's perplexing problems. Mr. Renn is a man among men, a real preacher of the gospel. In many fields, where others have failed, Mr. Renn has prayed, worked and won. He calls into play every faculty, coaxing, exhorting, pleading, and inch by inch he gains the love and esteem of his audience, according to reports from places he has held meetings.

Mr. Bockemeyer who will have charge of the music, is a director of more than ordinary ability. He has a strong sweet voice which has been cultivated with extreme care. He will have a chorus choir of about forty voices to assist him in the music part of the meeting.

The local Baptist church is specially fortunate in securing the services of these men for these meetings. They will make their first appearance at the services next Sunday morning. The pastor is specially anxious to see all the members of the church present and also extends a most cordial invitation to every one in the community to attend these meetings. The meetings will continue all next week, beginning each evening at 7:30. Services for next Sunday include Sunday school at 9:30, Preaching at 10:45 and 7:30 p. m. Mr. Renn will preach at both these services. All are welcome.

TO GATHER INFORMATION

Agents to Gather Facts Concerning Farm Land For Soldiers

Washington, Jan. 24—Agricultural agents of railroads have been instructed to gather all available information concerning farm lands along their lines open for lease or occupation by returning soldiers, it was disclosed yesterday in the report of the railroad administration's division of traffic, headed by Edward Chambers, covering the year 1918. This is in furtherance of Secretary Lane's plan for encouraging reclamation of lands by discharged soldiers.

The report also indicated that the railroad administration hopes to put into effect, as soon as the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved, the uniform class scale rates recently submitted to the commission and to State commissions.

The Ladies Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Cowing in North Main street. After the regular program officers were elected for the following year. Mrs. C. E. Liddle was elected president, Mrs. John Boyd, vice-president; Mrs. Joe Cowing, secretary; Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, treasurer and Mrs. Bert Mullin secretary of literature.

Mrs. Bert Moorman was hostess for the Catholic Ladies Aid society yesterday afternoon at her home in West First street. After a brief business meeting officers were elected, who were as follows: Mrs. Joe Callwell, president; Mrs. Ed Bishop, secretary; and Mrs. Thomas Kirk, treasurer. The retiring officers were Mrs. Bert Moorman, president; Mrs. Robert Williamson, secretary; and Mrs. Lote Carter, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Logan of Richland township entertained last night in honor of Herbert Nash, who recently returned from France. The interior of the beautiful country home was decorated with ferns and cut flowers. The evening was spent playing games and with music, and a two course luncheon was served. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly and daughter Mary Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holden, Miss Eva Mercer, Herbert Nash and Earl Vogel.

All women of the county, who are sewing for the Red Cross, are requested to finish all Red Cross garments and turn them in during the next ten days.

Don't Cough Until Weak

Tired out and weakened with persistent coughing, elderly people are in no condition to resist disease, and can not easily ward off more serious sickness.

FOLEY'S HONEY-TAR helps coughs quickly. It brings quick relief from day and night coughs, whether they result from cold, lagrippe, bronchial affection or tickling throat.

Mrs. Mary Kisby, an elderly lady of Spokane, Wash., 353 Princeton Ave., writes: "I was sick in bed with lagrippe, and had a very bad cough. I thought it a good time to try Foley's Honey and Tar, so began taking it. It stopped my cough, and I got better. So now I am round the house again. I am 75 years old, and as long as I live will praise Foley's Honey and Tar."

AMERICAN HOUSES OPENED IN ROME

To Further the Industrial Relations Between The United States
And Italy

MUTUAL BENEFIT DERIVED

All Representatives to Italy Will
Have Headquarters Here And
Will be Helped

Rome, Dec. 20. (By Mail.)—
Thanks to the generosity of Italian
financial and commercial interests

The United States will have a house
of its own in the Eternal City.

The Palazzo Salviati, one of the famous group of historic family palaces that line the Corso Umberto, formerly the Flaminian way, has just been purchased by the big banking interests of Italy, rechristened "La Casa dell'America" or
"The American House" and placed
at the disposition of all societies, organizations and movements that have for their objects the furthering of commercial, financial, social and industrial relations between the United States and Italy.

The project was planned by Minister of Provisions Crespi, who through his contact with American Food Administrator Hoover became convinced of the great mutual benefit to be derived by Italy and America through closer relations. The money for the purchase of the palace was put up by the 4 leading banking institutions of Italy.

The Salviati palace, which is near the entrance of the Corso Umberto
into Piazza Venezia, or where the Flaminian way formerly led up to the Capitoline hill, is surrounded by the other equally historic palaces of
the Odescalchi and Doria families.
Its interior furnishings and decorations will be kept intact as far as is possible.

The 4th floor of the palace will be occupied by the central headquarters of the Italian-American league,
of which Senator Ruffini is president and which has for its object promoting every possible relation between the American and Italian peoples.

The 2nd floor will be given over to the offices of financial organizations that are especially interested in Italian and American stocks and bonds.

Still other portions of the palace
will be given over to the societies
and organizations promoting interests along special lines between the United States and Italy.

In the future American manufacturing, business and financial institutions, sending representatives to Italy to establish relations, will find permanent headquarters at the American House and every facility necessary to enable them to attain their ends.

FRENCH COLORS ON GERMAN UNIFORMS

Got to be a Common Sight in the Rhinelands When Alsations Returned From Bondage.

TEAR OFF 'BOCHE' INSIGNA

These Homeward Bound German
Speaking and Uniformed Crowds
Shouting "Vive La France."

By FRANK J. TAYLOR,
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Strassburg, Dec. 17. (By Mail.)—
German uniforms and French tri-colors were not made to go on the same man, but they got to be a common sight in the Rhinelands, as the Alsations returned from bondage in the German army. The first thing an Alsation bought when he got to Strassburg or another liberated city
was a set of red, white and blue colors.

The general demoralization of the German army that followed the signing of the armistice was the opportunity Alsations had waited for and expected since the war began. Few Alsation troops were used for actual fighting in the Alsace-Lorraine part of the line. They refused to fight
there against the French. The Germans, by using anti-English propaganda, were able to make the Alsations fight in Belgium, where most of them were when the armistice came.

Alsation soldiers and officers then collected in groups and sent petitions to the high commands demanding their release immediately. In every instance the Prussian commanders refused these demands.
Generally the Alsations began deserting, often in groups, though thousands did so as individuals. The crumbling of the German army and overthrowing of officers gave the Alsations a chance to climb on trains
for home.

They arrived at the Rhine bridges in streams, and were asked by the French guards if they were Alsations. The answer was just as likely to be a German "Ya" as a French
"Oui". However, it made no difference. The only formality for passing the outpost post was tearing off all "boche" insigna, and throwing it into the Rhine. German uniforms
wer allowed, owing to the scarcity of cloth for civilian clothes, and the tri-colors served to make them more presentable. It was an odd sight, these happy homeward bound German-speaking German-uniformed crowds, shouting "Vive la France!"

PEPSINCO
Helped Her Stomach!

I just suffered everything. Nothing agreed with me at all. A few minutes after eating I had pain,
sourness and as a rule would belch bad tasting
stuff.

I tried doctors; I tried medicines; all without effect. Pepsinco was recommended. I honestly believe that I can thank Pepsinco
for my good health to-day.

I can eat anything and I am without pain. I would suggest that if there is anything wrong with your stomach, that you go to any drug store and get a small package of Pepsin-
co.

WEAKNESS REMAINS LONG AFTER Influenza

Reports Show That Strength,
Energy and Ambition Return Very Slowly to Grippe
Patients.

After an attack of influenza, doctors advise that nature be assisted in its building-up process by the use of a good tonic—one that will not only put strength and endur-
help to build up and strengthen the run-down cells of the brain.

One of the most highly recommended remedies to put energy into both body and brain is Bio-feren
—your physician knows the formula—it is printed below.

There's iron in Bio-feren—the kind of iron that makes red blood corpuscles and creates vigor. There is lecithin also; probably the best
brain invigorator known to science.
Then there is good old reliable gentian, that brings back your lagging
appetite.

There are other ingredients that help to promote good health, as you can see by reading this formula, not forgetting kolo, that great agent that puts the power of endurance into weak people.

Taken altogether Bio-feren is a splendid active tonic that will greatly help any weak, run-down
person to regain normal strength,
energy, ambition and endurance.

Bio-feren is sold by all reliable druggists and is inexpensive. For weakness after influenza patients
are advised to take two tablets
after each meal and one at bed
time—seven a day, until health, strength and vigor are fully restored.

It will not fail to help you and if for any reason you are dissatisfied with results your druggist is authorized to return your money
upon request—without any red tape
of any kind.

Note to physicians: There is no
secret about the formula of Bioferen. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycero-phosphate; Iron Peptonate, Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux.
Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phos-
phorothalein; Oleasterin Capsicum, Kolo.

worse than this if you can't stand at attention and salute when an officer passes."

"We were then quizzed in a little dugout just behind the front line trench—each separately, of course. The odd part of it was that although we had had no previous understanding, we all happened to give exactly the same answers—as we found out later in comparing notes.

"Later, I myself was present at 300 other quizzings of prisoners. (The Germans used me as an interpreter). The Germans always asked just 3 questions—I hardly remember a single variation. First, how many Americans are there in France? Second, is there any American artillery? Third, tell what you know about the conveying of troops.

"That day we all answered that there were three million Americans in France, but no American artillery so far as we knew. Most of us said the troopships came in convoys of from 20 to 40 ships. I told them I had come over on the Mauretania, unescorted.

"Then they forced us to march 30 kilometers to a village which I think was Kamecke. It was pretty tough, I can tell you. You see, all but two of us were wounded, and some of the fellows had all they could do to hobble along. All the attention we had received was a little first aid in that dugout.

"I was in a hospital at Kamecke a month. They fed us on bread and watery soup.

"After I had begun to mend, they removed me to the Giessen prison camp. Then I was taken to Darmstadt, and finally to Tüchel, where I stayed until the armistice.

"The first thing they did was to take off our shoes and give us wooden slippers. The next was to tell us to get to work.

"Still all we had to eat was a little black bread and watery soup.

"After 4 months of hard manual labor we were so weak we couldn't walk.

"One day a German general visited the camp, accompanied by a man who said he was an American newspaperman. We refused to believe him at first, thinking it was another German trick to put us off our guard. He was continually asking us if we had any message to send the home folks.

"Finally one of our crowd called out. If you tell the folks anything, tell them we never expect to see them again. Before long we shall all be over there in that graveyard near the camp, where 30,000 Russians are already buried."

The Germans are slowly starving us to death."

"Well, the general got pretty red in the face and said it was all a lie.

"But the next week, a bunch of American Red Cross packages showed up, each with 22 pounds of food. After that, they appeared regularly, and we grew fat and strong. We never ate another bite of German food. We turned our prison rations over to the Russians in the camp with us, while we had the time of our lives eating good old American food.

"No, I don't know a thing about internal conditions in Germany. The people may be starving or wallowing in plenty for all I know. They never let us outside the prison fence except when they took us to the train after the armistice. And as the railroad seemed to run through a desolate uninhabited part of the country, we didn't get a chance to get a line on things then.

LAXATIVE
for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

Don't Let Worms Kill Your Hogs

Free intestinal and stomach worms are those that do not attach themselves to the intestines or stomach. Worms which attach themselves to the stomach or intestines are properly called "Blood Suckers" and nothing will expel the "blood sucking worms" after they are formed.

The Thorn Headed Worm is a "blood sucker" and nothing will expel them after they are formed. They have a mass of thorns or hooks about the head and not only attach themselves to the intestines, but bury the head into and clear through the intestines. THE THORN HEADED WORM can be positively prevented by feeding ACME WORM BOUNCER from birth to maturity.

FIRST YANK TAKEN BY GERMANS TALKS

Platoon Messenger in the Sixteenth U. S. Infantry, Captured Morning of November 3

SPOTTED BY AN AVIATOR

Marched Through No Man's Land. Taken to German Dugout and Closely Quizzed

London, Dec. 23 (By Mail).—Here is the story of the first American soldier to be taken prisoner by the Germans in the war as he told it today, sitting in a comfy armchair in the American Red Cross headquarters on Grosvenor Gardens.

His name is John P. Lester, of Tutwater, Miss. He was a platoon-messenger in the 16th U. S. Infantry. He was captured the morning of Nov. 3, 1917, in company with 10 other doughboys—all that was left of a platoon of 16 sent into a front line trench in the Toul sector the night before to relieve a platoon of tired points.

Here is the story: "A German aviator spotted us soon after daylight, and began circling over us, signalling back to his artillery. We let go at him with our guns, but couldn't hit him. Next we knew the Germans put down a box barrage on all sides of us, completely cutting our salient off from the rest of the system and 300 field-grays came over the top.

"We blazed away at 'em until our ammunition was gone. Five of us were killed and all but 2 wounded. I was hit 3 times in the leg. And then they were upon us.

"A German corporal and 4 men jumped down into the trench beside me and told me to get a move on. I believe I was the first to be taken. They marched us across No Man's Land and into one of their own front ditches.

I never will forget the trip through that trench. We had not gone far before our feet began striking against bodies of German soldiers, lying there twisted up on the floor of the trench. As we reached a more active salient, the number of corpses increased. I remember how our shoes slipped over the heads of the dead Germans, how their bodies yielded slightly under the pressure of our weight, how the skin of their faces was bruised as we tramped over them.

"The first time our party halted, I leaned against the wall of the trench, nauseated and exhausted. My leg had begun to throb terribly.

"But I was brought to my senses in a minute or two by a fist blow on the face. In front of me stood two German officers. The other one struck me on the back of the neck, shouting in German—(I understood German). 'You will get a good deal

WHITE HOUSE IS VERY QUIET NOW

Quiet Prevails While the President And the First Lady Are Over In Europe

Washington, Jan. 24.—Secret service men, cooks, maids and the greater number of the retinue of folk attached to the Executive Mansion are on leave these days. The stream of diplomats and celebrities usually to be found in the reception room at the western extremity of the building, has dwindled to an occasional visit of friends of Secretary Tumulty or the remaining few others in the executive offices.

At night one or two lonesome lights gleam from the windows. Passers-by who are obviously visitors in Washington look toward the building with interest but without eagerness. A returned soldier, small bands of women and now and then a small group of Englishmen temporarily in America or other foreign folk appear asking to be shown the interior of the White House.

Quiet prevails at the Executive Mansion while the President and First Lady are away. The atmosphere is much the same as in the summer months of ordinary times when the President removes to the summer white house. Then, however, the President takes with him the executive force, which he left behind on the European trip.

On Mondays, unless something of greater importance interferes, the cabinet members indifferently congregate for the meeting, at which Vice-Pres. Marshall is always late. Other days Secretary Tumulty comes down about 10 A. M.

Outside since the first of the year two suffragists who are keeping a vigil to express their disapproval of the President, occasionally toss a speech into the wash-tub where the National Woman's Partys "eternal fire" is burning. The guards, who remain to keep a watch over the grounds and gateways, observe these ladies with indifferent interest.

Anywhere from 2 P. M. to 5:30 Mr. Tumulty leaves, accompanied by some one—sometimes the familiar figure of some Democrat, but more often with a person whose entire manner and bearing give the assurance that he is not a personage.

Mr. Dalrymple, who has been a White House guard for many years, opens the door and closes it. Mr. Tumulty's car moves away. Mr. Dalrymple observes that we should be having some snow pretty soon, and brushes an imaginary bit of lint from his trousers.

BORDER TOWN HAS SPASMODIC LIFE

Belgarde is Town of Watchful Waiting, Last Stop From France To Switzerland.

AN IDEAL JUMPING OFF POINT

Boundary Lines and Frontiers Seem to be Belgarde's Nemesis—Frontier Within Itself.

Belgarde, Swiss Border, Dec. 25. —(By Mail).—Belgarde is the city of watchful waiting. It isn't very often anyone compliments this little group of houses and a railroad between mountain peaks straddling the ravine of the Rhone by calling it a city.

Belgarde is the last stop in France on the way to Switzerland, and everyone going either way is stopped here to be examined. The point was probably picked because you can get out in no way except by railroad, unless you climb Alpine mountain peaks covered with snow. Belgarde is an ideal jumping off point.

Your papers are examined, and your baggage, and you are informed that the frontier is closed. It has been closed since the war began, except for a few hours at a time, or sometimes a day or so, when the frontier is suddenly opened on a few hours notice. Then is the time to rush across.

There is no set time for opening the frontier, and no reason for choosing any certain time. There are no suspicious characters to avoid because everyone in Belgarde is allowed to grab his baggage and clamber on the train for Geneva. No one knows just who opens the border or why—a mysterious order comes from somewhere, and those who have been willing to "stick around and wait" are allowed to proceed to Switzerland.

Belgarde is alternately filled to brim with people and emptied to the hotel keepers and a few townspeople. The night before the frontier opens there are people sleeping in the station, in cars, and everywhere, for want of rooms. The night it is opened there are rooms everywhere bare of occupants. The hotel keepers live for and by the closing of the frontier.

This peculiar French system has had the desired effect, according to officials, of discouraging travel to Switzerland, though it has done nothing to keep questionables from crossing. Frequently it has meant serious delays in important business when officials have been held up. Once the frontier remained tight for more than 25 days. There was suffering among the watchful waiters, many of whom had the best reasons for passing at once. But it made no difference at Belgarde. Finally, the mysterious word came from a certain French headquarters, and pent-up Belgarde was relieved of its ill-humored population.

Boundary lines and frontiers seem to be Belgarde's Nemesis. Within itself, the little town has a frontier. You go down to one end of crooked, steep Main street, or whatever it is called, and buy yourself a cake of chocolate where they have lots of it in stores. They try to bring that cake of chocolate back to your hotel.

The sentry in the box of the middle of the block by the bridge over the raging Rhone rapids stop you. You can't import chocolate to the other province without permission. Your end of the block is in one province and the chocolate end is in another. That explains why there is no chocolate in your end. You can stand there and eat the chocolate in front of the sentry, and then pass to your hotel—but you can't carry it in your hand.

That's Belgarde and the French boundary.

Rushville Five Will Enter Game With Slight Handicap.

The Rushville high school basketball team will go to Richmond tonight to meet the fast quintet of that place, with the odds slightly against them. Although the local five won from Richmond here by a narrow margin, they will be on a much larger floor, which is strange to them, tonight and they will be handicapped by the loss of Tompkins, center, who has not recovered sufficiently from injuries sustained two weeks ago, to play. Norris, floor guard, however, fills Tompkins' place very creditably and Becker is playing well at guard. A number of local fans will attend the game.

Ever Kick a Battery to Pieces?

Of course you wouldn't do it intentionally. No good driver would.

But a lot of experienced drivers of trucks and passenger cars have kicked their batteries to pieces without even knowing it by banging on the starting button when the motor didn't take hold at once.

Perhaps the trouble was just thick oil.

Maybe water had accumulated in the carburetor.

Possibly a connection had worked loose.

But whatever it was the battery had to suffer.

You can get far longer life from your battery, and incidentally from your whole car if you'll always be sure where the trouble is and correct it just as soon as you locate it.

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

BY N. B. COOK, M. D.

Foods taken into the stomach go through various chemical changes, and some of these changes are poisons that must be sifted out and disposed of. It is the duty of the kidneys to do this. When the kidneys do not fully perform their vital work, death may be only a few hours away. Happily, Nature has provided warning alarms telling people when their kidneys are not well. These warnings come in the form of dragging pains in the small of the back, weak stomach, low spirits, chills, nausea, headache, scanty urine and frequent desire to pass it, short breath, numbness, cramps, coated tongue, bad breath, puffs under the eyes, thin blood, dry skin, ringing in the ears, spots before the eyes and many other symptoms. All come from the one cause of kidneys that are not filtering the poisons out of the system. To overcome these troubles, Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. No other kidney medicine is its equal in giving relief and re-establishing healthful work in the kidneys. The treatment is very simple, as you need nothing except water when taking Anuric Tablets—a glass of water with each tablet. This washes and flushes the kidneys while the medicine itself is dissolving the uric acid poisons and driving them out. Anuric Tablets are made double strength, so that they dissolve uric acid the same as hot water dissolves salt or sugar. Most people need Anuric Tablets because most people have uric acid. Better get that poison out of your body for safety's sake, and better begin today.

To gently and agreeably coax the bowels back into normal activity, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are just as good for constiveness as his Anuric Tablets are good for kidney disorders, and that is saying a great deal.

CLAIMS ELEVEN AVIATORS

Anderson Has Record of Which to be Proud.

(By United Press.)

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 24.—Eleven aviators from Anderson is the record which the county of Madison county claims its official war record for the air service. This list of eleven includes observers and one "ace" but no men who were not fliers.

Lieutenant H. Weir Cook, who went to France as an ambulance driver is the "ace." He probably was the last man in France to win the distinction before the armistice was signed. Ensign Harold Atherton, who also served in France as an ambulance driver returned to America and enlisted in the Naval Aviation Corp. He was on duty in England when the armistice was signed, having served twice overseas.

OBITUARY

"Man cometh up as a flower and is cut down; he fleeth as a shadow and continueth not," for life, death and eternity are the stages of human pilgrimage, and through all the centuries since the dawn of Creation men have put this query to their own souls. "If a man die, shall he live again?" Men baffled and defeated with age and care, men strong and vigorous and buoyant in life's fair prime, men to whom life was sweet and whose future held much of promise have felt this question in their throbbing heart-beats. To some the answer has been vague and uncertain; to some the answer came in vibrant, ringing triumph, because these could say, "I know that my Redeemer liveth, and because He lives I shall live also." "I know that though worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh, I shall see God."

Sylvester Colvin was born May 14th, 1844, in Vinton county, Ohio. He was the son of Elisha and Amy Bevington Colvin and was one of a family of seven children. Very suddenly on the evening of December 4th, 1918, "God's finger touched him and he slept", his earthly sojourn being 74 years, 6 months, 10 days.

On September 25th, 1872, he was united in marriage to Anna Winchell, daughter of William Giltner Winchell and Sarah Stevens Winchell, who preceded him to the City Eternal August 11th, 1908.

To this union were born five children, two sons, Willie and Frank and three daughters, Mrs. Enos McKibben, Miss Mary ad Mrs. John Murphy.

On December 5th, 1916, he was married to Mrs. Laura Hargitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown, of Indianapolis.

Those of his immediate family who survive him are his wife, his three daughters, five grand-sons, one great-grandson, three sisters and a wide circle of other relatives and friends.

In the early eighties he emigrated to Missouri where he resided for about twenty years, when he returned to Rush county, Indiana and purchased the home east of New Salem where he has since then lived.

Many years ago, he became identified with the old Friendship Methodist Protestant church under the ministrations of the late Reverend S. M. Lowden. After his return from Missouri, he and his family united with the Methodist Protestant church in New Salem, during the pastorage of the Reverend Herman Schwarz Kopf.

He served his country well and faithfully during the Civil War and received an honorable discharge.

During the years that are past he was an up-to-date and progressive farmer and a keen, shrewd business man.

Thus, every moment, from all the diverse and manifold fields of action, life's harvesters disappear. Every moment some one is engulfed in the surging waters of eternity and hidden forever from human sight. Wise is he who looks only to the inevitable future for solace and mourns not the sorrows that are past, striving always to realize that, all these earthly trials are part of God's wise plan, and sometime when we shall with clearer vision, the purpose of the Infinite will be revealed, all our doubts and weaknesses and failures shall be eliminated, and out of the tangled discords of our lives, may God form, for each of us a beautiful, symmetrical harmony, with souls so purified and glorified as to be worthy a place among the redeemed in the City Eternal.

Keep The Kidneys Well

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Rushville People Know How to Save It

Many Rushville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Rushville citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. Lizzie Boren, 840 W. Ninth St., says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. What bothered me the worst was my kidneys acting irregularly and they showed in a number of ways they were badly disordered. I was told I had gravel. I heard how someone else had been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wolcott's Drug Store. They helped me at once and after I had taken four boxes, the pain had left and I felt a great deal better.

Price 60, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Boren had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

MEMBERS FAVOR NON PARTISAN ELECTION

Ballots To Show no Indication as to Political Organization Judicial Candidate Belongs

NOMINATED BY PETITION

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—The bill introduced by Representative Clinton H. Givan of Indianapolis, providing for non partisan election of judges, is meeting with considerable favor among many members of the lower house.

The bill provides that the ballots on which the names of candidates for judges appear, shall include no indication as to what political organization the candidate for judge belongs. Under this bill a candidate for judge would be compelled to make his race for office independent of his political organizations. A prison sentence of not less than one year in the state penitentiary and not more than five years is fixed as the penalty, in addition to a fine of from $25 to $500 for violation of the law.

Should the bill become a law, candidates for judges would be nominated only by petition, as they would not be eligible to participate in any form of a primary election, or be nominated by a political convention. It is pointed out in connection with the bill that thoroughly would be or not encouragement for judges to take part in political campaigns and therefore there would be greater justice forthcoming in the handling of cases.

Amusements

"She Walked in Her Sleep."

"People do all sorts of queer things when they walk in their sleep" idiomatically explains the physician in "She Walked in Her Sleep" the Mark Swan farce which George Broadhurst will present at the Shubert Murat Theatre for one week commencing January 27 with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. And upon this promise the author has worked out some rattling moments of hilarious entertainment. For four months playgoers in the metropolis have been enjoying the exploits of the fair somnambulist and now Indianapolis is to have its opportunity of passing judgment on the play.

It would be hard indeed to thread more tangled set of complications in a stage plot than Mr. Swan has done in this three act conceit. To start with, the sleepwalker—a very charming young woman as impersonated by Alberta Burton—does her promenade on the narrow ledge of the wall of an apartment hotel, sixteen stories above the street. She climbs into a room at will, taking the portable belongings of the occupants, strewing knitting and other hand paraphernalia about, ignoring the startled exclamation of those with whom she comes in contact and generally leaving a mysterious trail and a buzz of awed speculations and whispered comments. She walks away on one of her nocturnal expeditions with a priceless vial of explosives and precipitates all manner of complications.

BIGGER SAVINGS

The value of baking powder is based on its leavening strength. You can't judge it by the size of the can—or by the amount you get for your money. You must estimate it by the amount of baking powder used in each baking and the results you get.

CALUMET

is the greatest value ever offered in Baking Powder—it has greater raising "force"—it goes further than most of the other brands. You use only a rounded or heaping teaspoonful where others call for two teaspoonfuls or more.

But Baking Powder is not all you'll save when using Calumet. You save baking materials. Calumet never fails. The last level teaspoonful is as powerful as the first. Calumet is perfectly manufactured—keeps perfectly—and is moderate in price.

You save when you buy it—You save when you use it

One trial will satisfy you of these facts—and demonstrate beyond doubt that "Calumet spells economy."

Your grocer sells it on a guarantee of money back if you are not pleased with results.

HIGHEST QUALITY AWARDS

Construction of Cathedral of St. John Which Was Interrupted by War Will be Resumed

VAST SUMS ARE CONTRIBUTED

(By United Press.)

New York, Dec. 31.—Work on construction of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, which had been in progress about 25 years when it was interrupted by the war, will be resumed immediately.

This cathedral, situated on Morningside Heights, on almost the highest ground in Manhattan, is designed by the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York to be much the largest church edifice in the Western Hemisphere, and it is estimated that at least 100 years will be required for its completion.

As soon as the treaty of peace is signed Bishop David H. Greer and Dean Howard Chandler Robins will announce a plan for incorporating in the walls of the cathedral nave memorials for Americans who died in the world war. Memorial tablets of stone or metal will be placed on the walls of the nave. Relatives of soldiers who desire such memorials will contribute certain sums, and these contributions will be used to finance a large part of the construction.

world. We today need not be ashamed to believe in Him and accept Him as our Redeemer. His gospel is worthy of the thought of the wisest on earth. The strangest thing in this strange gospel story is the deliberate rejection of the Saviour by thousands of those to whom it is preached. Like the men of Athens people say we will hear thee again of this matter. Others say the gospel story is childish and not for strong minded men.

"The men of Athens is the final judgment will stand to witness against us. They will be able to say, Paul came to Athens once and preached to us Jesus and the resurrection. If we believe not, you and I will remember with the bitterness of despair that we heard the story again and again, but treated it as an idle tale. Let us learn to the saving of our immortal souls, the newest and the strangest story that has ever been told on earth."

KERENSKY LIVING QUIET LIFE NOW

of Friends on Cambridge Stairs
Terrace, London

RESTDYING DOCUMENTS

Seldom Leaves Friends Home, Except to Take a Walk in Regent
Park

By EDWIN HULLINGER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Dec. 25. (By Mail)—Alexander Kerensky, former dictator of Russia, is living quietly in the home of a friend on Cambridge Stairs Terrace, by Regent Park, in London.

In his little study, which he occupies a large part of the day, he is preparing his memoirs, re-reading and re-studying documents which once represented the destiny of Russia, and dictating to his Russian stenographer, who can write shorthand in four languages.

Kerensky has just finished a book on the Korniloff mutiny.

He seldom goes outside his friend's beautiful cozy little house. Once every day he walks alone through the winding, graveled paths of Regent Park just across the

He likes music, plays the piano fairly well, and sings. He knows by heart an enormous volume of Russian vocal music. Often he sits at the piano in the little parlor on the second story, and sings through one Russian master after another.

Sometimes he stops singing to think of his wife and two little boys, hostages in Moscow, imprisoned by the Bolsheviks soon after the great debate, and later released from prison when Mrs. Kerensky signed a pledge they would not leave Russia.

It is an exquisite little room, this second-floor parlor, finished in gray with a monster white polar bear rug on the middle of the floor, several big gray-upholstered cushiony arm-chairs and a wonderful couch into which you sink as into a feather bed when you sit down.

One wall is a bank of French windows, through which creep the gray lights of a London day. A fire in a fire place at one end gives a homey touch to the scene.

Kerensky was a lawyer in Russia before the revolution. He is still interested in law and devotes part of his time to legal question.

He is a man of remarkable personality. He has a smile that wins you at first meeting, a real, friendly like smile that convinces you right away he is interested in you. He is direct and unaffected. He talks immediately to the point, like an American business man, without flourish.

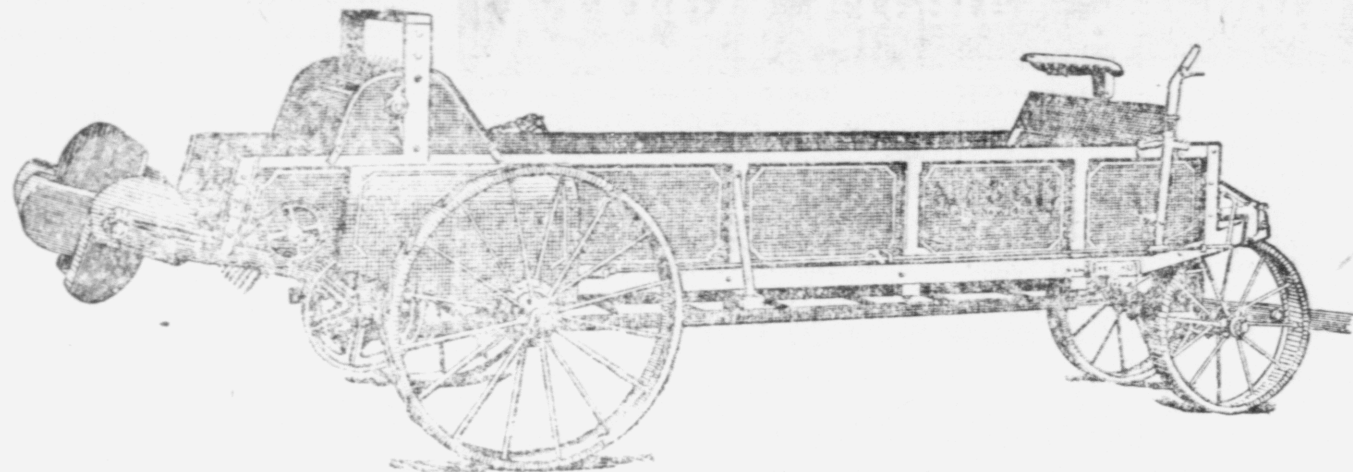

He has a wonderful reserve power.

His face is sensitive and extremely expressive. He can look the most delightfully amused one moment and the next the most tremendously sober. Like most leaders of men, he focuses his mind completely upon each separate incident, and never allows his perception of the present instant to be clouded by hang-over impressions from the past.

OFFERS FARM AS MEMORIAL

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 23.—Martin T. Krueger, formerly mayor here, has offered a farm of eighty acres at the edge of this city to be dedicated as a memorial park in honor of Michigan City's war heroes.

Blind British soldiers and sailors who had learned to row at Saint Dunstan's Hostel, took part in a series of races at the Marlow Rowing club—steered by the sisters of St. Dunstan's. There were 21 single scull entries.

This The Original Wide Spread Spreader

And on account of this feature and the simplicity, durability and dependability of it the makers claim to have reached the three-fifth mark of all the spreader sales made in America in 1917. The other manufacturers, seeing this have copied it until today there are several so-called wide spreaders on the market, but there is none that will beat it in any respect. Come to E. A. Lee and get the original, built by a firm which was the first to solve the spreader problem, by 18 years of successful spreader building. We have them at the right price, having placed our order at a time before the two last advances. The conditions are such that they can't be cheaper for some time. If you need a spreader—have work for one—you will find it worth more to you to use than to wait for a better price.

Your neighbors have them—Bert Eakins, Knecht & Gartin, Omer Hall, Clyde Wilson, Cleve Geise, Elmer Emsweller, George Green, Russell Harrison, Frank Wilson, Clarksburg, James Clark, Clarksburg, Russell Orme, O. L. Carr, W. A. Alexander, and others. Talk to them about their work.

Reading Advertisements has helped to make this a united country

Jim Hawkins props his feet on the rose festooned porch railing in an Oregon suburb and reads the same motor car advertisement that Cousin Peter is studying as he rides home from work in the new York subway.

In Arizona you can buy the same tooth paste and tobacco that are used by the folks in Maine.

California fruit growers advertise their oranges and lemons to the people of the East. New Hampshire factories make ice cream freezers for Texas households.

There can be no division in a country so bound together by taste, habit and custom.

You can meet up with anybody in the United States and quickly get on a conversational footing because you both read the same advertisements.

Advertising is the daily guide to what's good to buy. Advertisements give you the latest news from the front line of business progress.

Reading advertisements enables you to get more for your money, because they tell you where, what and when to buy.

And it is a well known fact that advertised goods are more reliable and better value than the unadvertised kinds.

YANKS WILL NOT GO BACK TO MARRY

Not Many American Who Have Been Overseas Will Wed French Girls
is Predicted by Officers

Most Men are Coming Back to Marry
the Girl They Left Behind in the States.

(By United Press.)

New York, Jan. 24.—Are American men who have been overseas going back to marry French girls?

"No," is the answer of 14 out of 15 returned officers, according to a Y. W. C. A. representative here who has been interviewing returning officers on this subject.

The consensus of opinion of those interviewed gives the reason thus: The French girl is not what American men call a pal. She knows how to cook, to sew, to make love. She can be a sweetheart. She is not a pal. Her horizon too often is limited to the home. Her life is lived within doors. She can never replace the American girl for all around intelligence, activities and ambitions. Most of all the American men miss in her the playfellow they have known at home—the girl with the tennis racket, the girl who loves to hike long and to swim and ride.

Will the men go back to France?

"Absolutely," say returned Americans. "But that is because of the call of Paris, the carefree life in the cities over there, the thrill and the romance of the atmosphere of France. In fact, most of the men are coming back to marry the girls they left behind, and then they probably will try to return to France and take their American girl wives with them to see the world."

But it may not be ill advised for the American girl to say to the returning men, "You'd better hurry." For the Y. W. C. A. is trying to help the French girl "catch up" with her

American sister in outdoor activities. This organization is sending women over all the time to teach outdoor sports of every sort, and even now many French girls have discarded the much slandered French heel. In fact there is a whole island in the Loire River given over to outdoor life and physical training.

Over 115 secretaries are in France doing after-war work. The Red Cross nurses huts were built and equipped by the Red Cross. They were then turned over to the Y. W. C. A. as a cooperating organization, and the latter has furnished the workers for the huts and maintained the upkeep of them. About 50 of the secretaries now across are engaged in this work. With the return to this country of the nurses, the Y. W. C. A. secretaries thus engaged probably will be transferred to work of other kinds.

None but highly trained women are being sent over by the Y. W. C. A. Almost all who have gone, or are going over, are college graduates. All have had experience along some particular line of work. Many are industrial experts.

Some have been professors in leading colleges. Miss Margaret Morris, formerly professor of history at Mt. Holyoke College, Mass., is at the head of the nurses' work. Miss Mary McDowell, known as Aunt of the Stockyards, of Chicago, perhaps more familiar with the twists and kinks in the woman's industrial world than almost any other American woman, is in France, doing a special piece of work for the association.

Miss Mary Dingman, of New York City and Paterson, N. J., who went over when America went into the fray and who was supervised building and maintaining of the 16 foyers is now in this country and expects to return to France very soon to direct the industrial work.

It seems probable that if the Y. W. C. A. is able to complete the program started in France, French women will be able to meet American freedom with a new but intensely real French freedom.

Just before the French supplies gave out, a truckload of R. C. supplies reached the Stilement Hospital at Metz where returned wounded prisoners are arriving, 50 at a time.

Frail, Sickly Children Improve Rapidly on Vinol

The reason we so strongly recommend Vinol for frail, sickly children is because it is a non-secret remedy which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Glycerophosphates—but no oil—the very elements needed to build them up. It is delicious to the taste, and children love it.

These Two Mothers Have Proved This.

Bainbridge, N.Y.

"My little daughter, 13 years old, overworked and was run-down, tired all the time, nervous, had headaches, couldn't eat and I ad to stay out of school. Vinol has built her up. She has a good appetite, no more headaches and has returned to school again."—Mrs. Lester Andrews.

Williamson, W. Va.

"My little boy was weak, puny, and tired all the time, did not want to do anything. Vinol was recommended and it built up his strength and made him healthy. Now he romps and plays like other children. We certainly believe in Vinol for children."—Harley Clay.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS NEXT

Will be Taken up at Tomorrow's Session of Peace Conference
—Other Subjects Coming Up

(By United Press.)

Paris, Jan. 24.—The supreme war council today decided to appoint a committee to examine the question of apportionment of forces to be maintained on the western front during the period of the armistice.

President Wilson has selected the American representatives on the commission which is to confer with delegates of the various Russian factions at Prince Island. They will be announced today.

The other associated powers were understood to be showing similar speed in preparing to undertake solution of the problem. No work has yet been received from the Soviet government in response to wireless message announcing the allied proposal.

The league of nations will be formally taken up at tomorrow's session of the general peace congress, it was learned from reliable sources today.

Much of the work in preparing drafts of the various nations' program for the league is being done by delegates outside the joint meeting and it was expected the preliminaries would be in such shape as to permit full discussion of the broad outline of plans tomorrow. It was reported that neither American nor British plans would be presented in their entirety tomorrow. Apparently President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George will wait until the other programs are submitted and discussed then they will bring forth their complete program of their delegates.

Among other subjects to be discussed tomorrow are: responsibility and punishment for the war; reparation for war damages; international labor legislation and the international status of ports, waterways and railways. In connection with the latter proposition it is believed the Dardanelles, the Bosphorus and Constantinople will be considered. A move is expected to internationalize that area, that here may be an open exit from the Black Sea, assuring continuous access to Russia's wheat for the world.

"FLU" IS RAMPANT IN SOUTHERN RUSH

Milroy Schools Remain Closed and May Not Be Reopened Before Next Fall, It Is Stated

THREE TOWNS ARE AFFLICTED

The influenza malady is still spreading in Milroy and vicinity, there being a total of 261 cases which have been treated by the three Milroy physicians. The school has been closed since Monday and as five of the eleven teachers are ill of the malady, it is doubtful whether the school will be continued before next fall. Sandusky and Clarksburg also have the epidemic, the schools of both places having been closed. There are about 50 cases in the former place and thirty-six in the latter.

Rushville seems to have had her "dose" as no new cases were reported today. Only one case has been reported since last Tuesday, and there have been no new cases reported to the county health officer since that time.

WILL WELCOME INQUIRY

War Department is Ready For a Congressional Investigation

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—The war department will welcome a congressional investigation either into the affairs of the department or the conduct of the office, Secretary of War Baker and Chief of Staff March told the house rules committee today. As this week is taken, Baker promised full information and that testimony of officers who have been in France would be made as soon as possible. Baker declared, however, that the investigation was difficult at this time because the officers who had information as well as documents were still overseas.

JOHNHECKMAN, GASED ON AUGUST 22, IS HOME

Returns on Same Vessel With Russell Dearing, Who Was Wounded
by Shrapnel October 17

LATTER WAS IN HOSPITAL

John Heckman, who was gassed while in action on the west front August 22, 1918, has been discharged from the service and has arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heckman, northwest of the city. He received his discharge at Camp Sherman, O.

Not until he arrived home did his parents know the nature of his injuries. Private Heckman never mentioned in his letters after he had been returned to duty, how he had happened to be sent to the hospital, and his parents were worried when they received the official government report, October 7, that their son had been wounded severely in action. Private Heckman shows no ill effects now of having been gassed.

He landed at Newport News, Virginia, January 3 after being eleven days on the water. He did not discover until the vessel had almost reached this side, that Private Russell J. Dearing, Company D, 115th Infantry, former Rushville rural mail carrier, was on the same ship. Private Dearing sustained a wound in the back of the head from shrapnel October 17 and was still in the hospital at Newport News when Private Heckman left.

HUTCHERSON TRIED BEFORE A JURY TODAY

Liberty Man Who Sued City For $500 Damages, Accused of Speeding and Intoxication

SPECIAL JUDGE HEARS CASE

Grover Hutcherson of Liberty was tried in mayor's court this afternoon before a jury on charges of speeding and intoxication, which were the outgrowth of an accident March 23, 1918, when Hutcherson ran into a traffic post with his automobile at the corner of Morgan and Second streets. A suit by Hutcherson against the city for $500 damages, is pending in the circuit court, Hutcherson having alleged that the city was to blame because there was no light over the traffic post. The case is now at issue on an amended complaint.

Hutcherson was arrested a week ago yesterday and brought here. He pleaded not guilty and demanded a change of judge, which was granted, T. M. Green being appointed by Mayor Irvin to hear the case. The jury was composed of the following: Lon Link, Vern Norris, Ora Cliné, Charles Hugo, George C. Wyatt, A. L. Aldridge, Charles Leisure, Alvan Moor, George C. Wyatt, Guy Gordon, Greely McCarty and J. B. Farthing.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE GIVEN CLEAR PATH

Difficulty Threatened by Conflict Between Amendment and Van-Auken Bill Ironed Out

TO COME TO VOTE THURSDAY

Committee Reports Favorably on Amendment Bill to Make Attorney General Appointive

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., January 24.—Woman suffrage legislation was given a clear path in the senate today. The difficulty threatened by the conflict between the amendment to the constitution giving women the right to vote offered by Sen. Beardley, and Senator Van Auken was eliminated by the committee on constitutional amendment.

The Beardley resolution was amended so that the clause applies. The registration was stricken out. This will allow the resolution presented by Van Auken to stand. Van Auken's proposed registration bill provides that changes so that registration applies for cities of more than 25,000, thus eliminating chief difficulties with the present registration system. It would also provide that a voter must pay poll tax before he is allowed to cast his ballot.

The Beardley amendment was made the special order of business for Thursday morning at eleven o'clock.

Senator Strode presented a measure providing for non-partisan election of judges. Paying of county officers salaries monthly instead of quarterly is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Laney.

Reports of committees include one favoring passage of the amendment bill providing for appointment instead of election of the attorney general.

The house passed the Mallot bill providing that township lines cannot be changed without vote of the people and the Miller bill apportioning funds for the G. A. R. work. The Cooper bill providing that county commissioners must give a $500 bond was killed.

Representative Buchanan introduced a bill providing for establishment of a state movie censor board to be composed of three members and deputies who may be appointed by the governor.

All films would have to be approved by the board and fees would be charged for censoring films. A bill providing for inspection of buildings by the mayor in cities which have no building inspectors was introduced by Representative McKinley, of Muncie.

A bill preventing injunction being issued against strikers was introduced by Representative Bidaman. It is sponsored by the Federation of Labor. Representative Kessler introduced a bill appropriating $3,500 for the erection of a memorial in the state house to the men and women who gave their lives in the war with Germany.

CONTINUE ATTACK

Washington, Jan. 24.—Continuing their attack on the $100,000,000 famine fund bill, senators opposing it today charged that it is to the interest not only of pork packers but of food producers generally to see reduction of prices ahead unless something is done to keep the high cost of living on the present plane.

SEED WORTH $700 STOLEN

When W. U. Barrett, a business man of Morristown, went to examine a quantity of clover seed which he bought recently, he found that it had been stolen and the sacks which contained the seed filled with straw. It is not known when the theft occurred. The seed, which was valued at $700 was stored in the rear room of his building.

NOT TO BE TREATED AS AN IDLE STORY

Gospel is Not Childish as Some Say, Declares Dr. J. S. Hill at U. P. Church

IT IS NOT TO BE POSTPONED

Minister Recalls Experience of Paul Preaching to the People of Athens

That the gospel story is not an idle tale to be postponed for consideration in the future, was the declaration last night of the Rev. James S. Hill of Richmond, who is conducting evangelistic services at the First United Presbyterian church. The sermon on the subject, "Strange Things," was based on the experiences of Paul preaching to the people of Athens.

Unusual interest is being shown in the meetings, according to Dr. Hill, and the attendance is large. A prayer meeting preceding the regular service will be held at seven o'clock this evening. The minister spoke in part as follows last night:

"Paul came to the seashore at Troas. He cast longing eyes across the blue waters of the Hellespont, toward Europe in the distance. He dreamed the strange dream of winning that country for Christ. In the hours of the night his dream became a command. The men from Macedonia stood before him, and said, 'Come over into Macedonia and help us.' We have schools and colleges and scholars and statesmen and philosophers, but with it all we are dying. We no longer know what purity is. Our civilization is corrupt to its very core. The next morning Paul and Silas and Luke and Timothy, left the seashore at Troas and crossed the sea to Europe. There was no one to bid them godspeed, and there was no one one to welcome them on the other side. Yet these men were going to the shores of Europe on the greatest enterprise that ever carried men from one country to another.

"Paul with his companions is carrying the gospel of Jesus Christ to the civilized but dying nations of Europe, stopping for a time at Philippi, and Corinth he finally reaches Athens, the capital of Greece. While waiting in the city his heart is deeply stirred because of its idolatry. It was said there were as many gods as men in Greece. He began to teach and to reason with the people on the streets concerning Jesus Christ. The men of Athens said, here is a babbler, a trifler. Yet there was something in the message Paul brought which attracted their attention. Then they came to him and said, 'Thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.'

"Then they took Paul to the Areopagus, the public forum of Greece. Here the great and wise men of Greece, had taught their tenets and philosophers. Paul is given the opportunity to bring his message to these men. He was permitted to tell them new and strange things. For the Athenians and strangers sojourning there spent their time in nothing else but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

"In answer to this challenge Paul preaches unto them Jesus and the resurrection and the judgment. He presents the coming of Christ into the world as the greatest and strangest event in its history. He must have told them of the birth and life and death of Jesus. After Paul has related his story and revealed the plan of salvation, he says, 'God commands all men everywhere to repent, because He hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness.'

"Paul, the thinker and the reasoner, was not ashamed nor afraid to preach the gospel of Christ in the most refined and cultured city in the world."

HE WOULD NOT SEAT BERGER

Rep. Gillett, Member of House Will Not Allow Him to Qualify

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—The first open opposition to seating Victor Berger of Wisconsin as a member of the house came in a statement from Representative Gillett of Massachusetts, candidate for speaker in the next congress.

Gillett said that the refusal to seat Berger should be the very first action of the next house because Berger was found guilty of charges of disloyalty. "The conviction of his disloyalty, and I believe the country generally approves the verdict of the jury, and his actions are sufficient manifestations to disqualify him from congress," said Gillett.

APPROPRIATIONS OF COUNCIL LEGALIZED

County Body Spends The Afternoon Trying to Get Quorum and Finally is Successful

ONE ITEM IS CUT DOWN $2,000

The appropriations for the expense of the special election on the hospital question February 25, for the redecoration of the interior of the court house and for other items of county expense, were legalized late yesterday afternoon when a quorum of the county council was finally brought together.

The meeting lacked one of a quorum early in the afternoon and the councilmen present expected R. P. Havens of this city to put in an appearance, as it was easier for him to attend than a member living outside of Rushville. An effort was made to find him, but to no avail. It was reported that Mr. Havens was opposed to the appropriation for the expense of the hospital election. Finally, in order to make the appropriations of Wednesday legal, Hiram Henley of Carthage, a member of the council, came down from Carthage in an automobile and made a quorum.

The appropriation of $10,000 for redecoating the court house interior, which was passed on first reading Wednesday, was cut down $2,000 yesterday, making the total appropriations only $21,200.05. In addition to items already mentioned was one for $500 for taking the school enumeration.

WORK OF THE DRAFT BOARD ABOUT DONE

Registration Cards and Questionnaires Being Stamped With Board's Code Number

RECORDS TO BE SEALED AGAIN

The local army selection board is now completing what is expected to be its last task. Having stamped all of the registration cards with the board's code number, George B. Moore, Jr., clerk of the board, is now stamping the questionnaires preparatory again to filing them away and sealing them.

The board once before sealed all of the records of the draft in this county, in accordance with instructions, but in the meantime the provost marshal's office sent out a lot of new instructions which made necessary the breaking of the seals.

Before wrapping the records of the board, including all correspondence, the board will make an inventory of all articles included in each parcel. The board is instructed to hold the records and the inventories until an inspector arrives, or for further instructions. It is believed by the board that no inspector will be sent, but that orders will come to ship all the records.

Every Prospect of Armenian and Syrian Relief Fund Being Over-subscribed Next Week

Work of The Committee in The Near East is Endorsed by the American Red Cross

With the organization completed in every township in the county, the campaign to raise Rush county's quota of $4,950 for the relief of the persecuted peoples of the Near East will get under way in earnest tomorrow when the campaign will be opened officially.

The first meeting in the interest of the campaign will be held at Osborn school in Jackson township tonight at seven o'clock and will be at the Main Street Christian church here Sunday afternoon and Sunday night and union meeting will be held at Manilla for the purpose of raising Walker township's quota.

The campaign opens under the most favorable circumstances, with two townships having already reached their allotments and others well on the way towards the goal. Anderson and Washington townships reported to the county chairman, Walter Frazee, that they have enough in their war funds to meet their quotas and Rushville township is estimated to have at least half of its share of the county's quota. Ripley township, too, is more than half way over.

Plans have been formed to make the meeting at the Christian church Sunday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock one of county wide interest. The address will be delivered by Captain C. K. Morse, who was with the Canadians overseas for more than two years. He has made a special study of the conditions in the near east and is well qualified to speak on the subject. He is making addresses in a number of places in the state this week. Rushville fraternal orders have been invited to attend the meeting in a body and some of them are preparing to accept the invitation.

Judge Will M. Sparks will preside at the mass meeting here, according to the program announced today, and Homer Cole will lead the singing. After a number by the orchestra the audience will sing "America" and the invocation will be pronounced by Dr. D. Ira Lambert, Janet Dean, Gladys Titsworth and Mary Louise Wyatt will render a violin trio and the audience will sing "Hail Somebody Today." Following the address of the afternoon at three o'clock, the county chairman, Walter E. Frazee, will talk briefly on answering the call in Rush county, and the Rev. L. E. Brown on answering the call in Rushville township. The meeting will adjourn at four o'clock.

The ministers of Rush county have been requested to discuss the subject in their pulpits Sunday so that it will be brought to the attention of the people of the county by every avenue of publicity possible.

The people of Rush county may know that their contributions will be wisely and judiciously spent in the administration of relief in the Near East because the committee has the endorsement of the Red Cross. The American Red Cross has placed the work of relief in the hands of the American Committee of the Armenian and Syrian Relief not only because this committee has administered so intelligently and efficiently to the sufferers under Turkish rule, but it is the only agency except the Red Crescent, which is controlled by the Turkish government, that has an organization in the field prepared to carry on relief and reconstruction work as soon as funds and material are available.

NECESSITY

Is The Mother Of Invention

The only really new principles in the spreader building in the last fifteen years were introduced by the Litchfield Mfg. Co., and are found on RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreaders. Everyone of them is of commanding importance.

First among these is the conveyor which can't clog or slip under a load. Look at the cut above and see the swinging sections. Any material leaking through from the load can't lodge, but drops to the ground. You can't find another one like it.

If you could look into the box you would see that the rear edge of every slat is raised just above the one preceding it, forming a traction cleat making it impossible for the conveyor to move back with taking the load with it, thus giving it a FORCE-FEED. This overcomes every objection to the endless apron and knocks into "SMITHERS" the arguments of the advocates of return aprons with attendant reverse gears, traps and triggers.

FIFTEEN YEARS FROM NOW after Litchfield's patents expire all other kinds of conveyors will be a thing of the past. What other spreaders will be in fifteen years from now the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader is today.

FIFTEEN YEARS FROM NOW all spreaders will be using the BULL DOG cylinder and NO CHOKE BOX—but we'll tell you about them later. Don't wait for us to tell you but come in and see the machine yourself. There are a whole lot of things about the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader, that we cannot explain in print—we have to show you. IT'S GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS!

CROP REPORT FOR 1918 MADE OUT

Year Just Past has Been a Remarkable One in Many Respects for Farmer.

CROPS TOTAL $465,000,000.

Acreage Devoted to Five Principal Crops in Rush County is Estimated at 170,000.

The bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture has made out a crop report for Indiana for the year 1918. The year just closed has been a remarkable one, in many respects for the farmers of Indiana. On a request by the national government to increase the production of crops and livestock they went to work with courage and patriotism to comply, knowing that labor was scarce and probably would be hard to get at any rate.

Their efforts were rewarded by harvesting the largest crops of rye, wheat, oats, barely and buckwheat ever produced in the state. The acreage of corn was large but weather conditions, together with inferior seed, much of which was shipped in from Missouri and other eastern states, resulted in smaller crop than usual, but the price and quality of the corn was good, and from a monetary standpoint it was the best ever produced, notwithstanding the yield was 3.3 below the ten year average.

More hogs sheep and cattle were produced than for many years previous. The hay acreage and yield was above average, but it was harvested under favorable conditions and to a great extent is still on the farms. Clover seed was probably the greatest disappointment of all crops; only 1.3 bushels to the acre being harvested; tobacco was about normal for both acreage and production. Tree fruits were almost a failure, except in the commercial orchards, and truck crops and potatoes were a little better than an average crop.

The total average of all crops produced on Indiana farms during 1918 was approximately $465,000,000. The total value of all live stock on Indiana farms December 31 was approximately $325,000,000. The total value of all crops produced in the United States in 1918 was approximately $12,275,000,000.

It is estimated in the report that the acreage devoted to the five principal crops in Rush county was as follows: wheat, 46,600; rye, 5,700; oats, 11,700; corn, 89,300; tame hay 25,700.

ADOPT HOPEWELL SLOGAN

(By United Press.)

Union City, Ind., Jan. 24.—Union City now faces the possibility of following the path of Hopewell, Va., which adopted the slogan "built in six months; destroyed by fire in six hours; rebuilt in six weeks and ruined in six minutes." Hopewell depended upon gun cotton and it died with the signing of the armistice. Union City has thrived upon the demands of thirsty Hoosiers who have been pouring into the city nightly since Indiana enlisted in the prohibition forces. With Ohio about to go dry, the outlook for Union City is not promising, according to the belief of some. Others however fail to agree with this opinion and already hope is expressed by many, especially those on the Indiana side of the state line, that national prohibition will become effective before May when the Buckeye state will go dry.

FIFTH LIBERTY LOAN DATA IS PUBLISHED

Second Anniversary of Entrance into the War May be Designated as Starting Time.

TO ASK FOR $5,000,000,000.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Opening of the fifth liberty loan campaign April 6, the second anniversary of America's entrance into the war against Germany, is under consideration by treasury officials, but no decision has been reached. It will be known as the Victory Liberty loan, Secretary Glass announced yesterday.

The third liberty loan drive started April 6, 1918, the first anniversary. It is planned to have the campaign run for three weeks and to ask for between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000. Whether the interest rate will be higher than the 4 1/2 percent borne by the last issue depends partly on the movement of the market price of liberty bonds during the next two months. The bonds will be of short maturity, in the neighborhood of five years.

Advertising posters for the fifth loan have been partially chosen, and organizers already are making preliminary plans for sales campaigns. Motion pictures and public speakers will be used extensively.

Naturalists state that serpents can live six months or longer without food.

CASH PRIZES IN CORN SHOW

The third of a series of farmers institutes being held throughout the county was held yesterday and the evening of the day before at Arlington. Music was furnished by the Downey orchestra and those who did not attend the meeting missed a great treat, it is reported. Officers were elected for the next year as follows: president Albert J. Reddick, vice-president Warren H. Young, secretary-treasurer Charles Marshall. Those elected on the women's committee were: president Mrs. Swen, vice-president Mrs. A. J. Reddick, secretary-treasurer Mrs. John M. Hubbard.

The speakers for the occasion were Mrs. Hortense Moore, W. T. Martindale and Mrs. Fordney of Shelby County. A five acre prize corn contest has been planned for next year and Hutchinson and son have offered twenty-five dollars as a cash prize to the winner.

The session at Moscow today began at 9:30 o'clock with plenty of music on the program. Two addresses were made by Mrs. Moore and W. T. Martindale, both morning and evening. The appointment of committees took place just before noon and a report by the various committees was given just after noon, followed by the reading of the minutes of the institute a year ago.

Cash prizes will be given on both white and yellow corn, in single ears and ten ear lots. The corn show was open to exhibitors from Orange township. Ribbons will be awarded as prizes.

MRS. JUDAS LEVI IS DEAD

Expires at Her Home Here of Paralysis After 11 Years Illness

Susan Levi, wife of Judas Levi died last night at 8:35 at her home in West Water street, following an illness of eleven years, being compelled to remain in bed the last year, by the paralysis. Mrs. Levi would have been seventy years old in June. Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Thomas and Jesse, of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Sweet and Mrs. Charles Gregg, also of this city. The funeral service will be held at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home with burial in East Hill cemetery.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels — there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"Three Mounted Men"

Would you trust your heart to a girl who made her living singing and dancing in a frontier drinking place? In "Three Mounted Men," the masterful Universal feature in which Harry Carey appears with Neva Gerber, a man does this very thing, with full confidence in her worthiness. Lola wasn't a bad girl at heart and she became a professional dance hall girl so she could support her mother and herself. Her brother, Buck Masters, was a convict serving a term in jail. One day Bill came back to the little frontier town and found Lola. He determined she should not sing or dance for drunken miners any more. He planned a stage coach robbery and—

When Buck left the prison he was at odds with the warden's son over some dishonest manipulation of prison accounts. Soon after the warden's son sent Cheyenne Harry after him. Harry went to the little town where Buck's sister and mother lived. He met Lola and fell in love with her. How the forger was apprehended through the efforts of Cheyenne Harry, but released by him later, is shown in "The Three Mounted Men," which comes to the Mystic tonight.

Last Time For Fairbanks

One of the most imposing sets ever built for any motion picture production is the one that was built for Douglas Fairbanks, new aircraft photoplay, "He Comes up Smiling," which will be shown at the Princess theatre again tonight. This set represents a complete house with the fourth wall removed, showing ten rooms, including parlor, study, dining room, kitchen, bath and bedrooms. Every room is furnished lavishly.

In this house, the various prisoners of Jerry the tramp, the part played by Mr. Fairbanks, are incarcerated until the startling denouement causes their release and the general clearing up of a complicated and grotesquely humorous story. The picture provides the athletic star with abundant material for obtaining laughs and it is needless to say that he has not failed to take advantage of the opportunities provided him.

Mr. Fairbanks essays the role of a sublimated tramp, a modern Quixote, who sets to rights a series of business intrigues and accidentally wins a bride for himself. His leading woman is Marjorie Daw. The support generally is excellent.

PERSONNEL COURSE HAS BEEN PICTURED

FITTED FOR A CERTAIN TASK

Washington, Jan. 24.—Methods by which 3,665,000 men were classified by the army personnel machinery so that each was assigned to the task for which he was fitted by education and experience are graphically pictured in an exhibition at the War Department. An illustration of the results obtained was given in the statement that nine months were required for the first divisions organized to reach the point of efficiency necessary for overseas work, whereas only three months were required for the last divisions formed.

Charts, diagrams and photographs arranged around the walls of several rooms showed the course of the new recruit from the moment he stepped off the train until he was finally assigned to his ultimate place with the combat units or in some one of the 714 occupational specialties.

When each soldier arrived at camp he made out a card, on which he gave his occupation. The men laying claim to proficiency in any trade were put through tests to prove their claim.

MILITARY MEN'S SERVICE

AT

The Main St. Christian Bible School

Next Sunday Morning at 9:15

All soldiers, sailors, marines, and all men who have had any active participation in the war—all who are not identified with other schools—are invited to be our guests, and enjoy the service prepared in their honor. The public is invited to join in extending a hearty welcome to the returning boys. The pastor's subject at the morning church service:—

BOYS TO HELP RAISE FOOD

Director of Boy's Working Reserve Pushing Drive For Enrollment

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23.—Isaac D. Straus, federal state director for the United States Boys' Working Reserve is pushing forward the drive for enrollment of every available boy between the ages of 16 and 21 years to assist in increasing the food production in Indiana during the coming year.

More than fifty high schools of the state have already reported an organization which is assisting in the drive for enrollment. Boys enrolling in the reserve will not be called for duty before June, thus avoiding conflict with school work, according to the plan as announced by Straus.

The first submarine cable was laid from Dover to Cape Grisnez, France, in 1850.

Good Results of Criticism.

As a result of the repeated demands for a change in the management of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, the professional "efficiency expert" under whose supervision the affairs of the bureau went from bad to worse, has been superseded by an army officer who has promised to send allotment checks to soldiers' dependents with as little delay as possible. Col. Lindsley, the new chief, has told the senate military committee that he will hold greater speed in getting out the money in the future.

A recent report from Secretary of the Treasury Glass gives some idea of the present state of affairs at the war risk office. Of the 2,500,000 checks for dependents' allotments and allowances deducted from soldiers' pay for November and December, only 930,000 have been mailed thus far. In order to catch up with the work checks for the two months are being written simultaneously in many cases and Mr. Glass predicts that before the end of January the work will be up to date.

Sap and Salt

By BERT MOSES

Opinion has two sides, but Truth has only one.

Hate and revenge, I am told, were invented by lawyers.

The things that we most fear are things we do not understand.

The way to get people to run after you is to give them a good run for their money.

Joys would not be recognized as joys if troubles were not sandwiched in between to supply contrast.

Hez Heck says: "To judge a man's morals by his salary is as uncertain as to judge a woman's mentality by her millinery."

If the promised improvement materializes it may be claimed very properly by the Republicans that it is due to their persistence in airing the conditions at the bureau, and citing some of the many glaring instances of inefficiency that have characterized the conduct of that office. In practically every case their criticisms have been answered by the democrats, by statements of the immense amount of work thrown upon the bureau soon after its creation and the impossibility of attending to it all without some delay. The recent change in executives is an admission of failure in the past and of the truth of the repeated assertions of the critics.

The New Prophet

A paen from the more or less Reverend Billy Sunday, against the ratification of the prohibition amendment:

"The rain of tears is over. The slums will soon be memory. We will turn our prisons into factories, our jails into storehouses and corncribs. Men will walk upright now, women will smile, children will laugh, hell will be for rent."

Maybe this is not literally true. Poetry and prophecy seldom are. But alike all inspired utterances, it shows the ideal and the gladness tread toward its attainment. And let it not be for a reproach to the Reverend Billy that he has merely modernized a great and glorious prophet of old. Could Isaiah himself have said it better?

A Little far Fetched But—

The selfish ambition of an unprincipled ruler has made itself felt from one end of the world to the other, and has produced results far beyond intention or expectation.

For instance, Dr. Robertson, the head of the Chicago health department estimates that of the 400,000 deaths from influenza and pneumonia in this country, one half could have been prevented if the sufferers had had skilled nursing. This is it was impossible to supply, for the army had required 20,000 trained nurses to meet its needs. This left at home barely enough experienced nurses for ordinary times, and when the epidemic arrived the scarcity of nurses was immediately felt.

The people who died on account of insufficient care in sickness were as truly victims of the Prussian military system as if they had died on the field of battle.

Among the divorces which threaten the home life of America there is none more serious than the divorce between the dollar and its purchasing power.

It is to be hoped that the American soldiers now in Russia are North Dakotans. Those boys would sooner fight in the snow than shovel it.

The things distinctively Russian are pony coats, blouses, Bolsheviks and problems.

The Kaiser and the crown prince now realize what it is to be "in Dutch."

ials are placed in their hands.

The American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief was organized in October, 1915, for the purpose of securing immediate relief for the Armenians and Syrians, cabled reports of whose persecutions were at that time just beginning to reach this country. Three years ago, American Consul Smith cabled from Tiflis that the American Committee was besieged by appeals from all districts, delegations of hungry people coming long distances begging for bread and refusing to leave without food or promises.

Recently Stephen V. Trowbridge, Chairman of the Red Cross chapter in Cairo, wired that 2 Armenian exiles had arrived at Port Said after inconceivable suffering and two and a half year's wandering through the mountains of Asia Minor and the Arabian desert. Two hundred and twenty-seven of their number had perished on the way. There are 40,000 destitute in Teheran alone, people eating dead animals and women abandoning their infants.

Red Cross workers have corroborated the stories of Turkish atrocities told by missionaries and other eyewitnesses. Two Danish Red Cross nurses who were formerly in the German hospital at Erindian include in their reports an account of the sufferings of the Armenians as well as of their own hardships because of their friendless to this persecuted people. These nursing sisters were dismissed from the hospital because they had befriended the Armenians and when they appealed to the German consul, he gave no help. A Red Cross druggist on the hospital staff, who expressed his horror of the Turkish cruelties that were being perpetrated, was also immediately dismissed.

ATTACKED BY MANIA

Organized for The Purpose of Inter-acting Nation in Public Works And Private Construction

WILL SURVEY CONDITIONS

To be Made With View of Learning How Labor and Capital May be Profitably Employed

Washington, Jan. 24.—A new division has been created in the department of labor for the purpose of interesting the nation in public work and private construction. Secretary Wilson announces that the new service will gather and distribute information that will enable private initiative to make the transition from a war to peace basis without serious interruption, due to lack of data on which business judgment must depend.

A survey of business conditions will be made with a view to learning how labor and capital may be profitably employed during the critical period when factories are being made over for peace production and markets are being canvassed for future outputs.

The division which will carry on this work is now being organized by F. T. Miller, the publisher of construction periodicals, as a section of the department's information and education service, of which Roger W. Babson is chief. The new organization is called the division of public works and construction development, and occupies the building at 16 Jackson Place.

The particular objective of the bureau's research will be to secure data for the use of the construction industry, but the material to be collected will be so varied that the information will be of value to industry generally. The facts made available will be of help to any community or investor indetermining whether it is advisable to undertake public or private building at present. When circumstances unfavorable to construction are discovered an attempt may be made to correct them, but there will be no stimulation of economically unsound enterprise.

The inquiry will be under the direction of business men of wide practical experience who are serving without pay. The actual investigation will be conducted by a group of economists and special agents supplied by the Department of Labor and other Government departments or lent by universities. The field will include the cost and supply of building materials, the amount of labor available and its cost, the values of land, prevailing rents, the supply of capital, the amount of construction held up by the war and the demand for building in all parts of the country.

Under the supervision of the economics section, five other sections will prepare information for publication by the means of the press, public speakers posters and the medium of organized labor.

APPEAL BY GOVERNOR FOR RELIEF IN THE NEAR EAST

Our armies are victorious and our heroic American soldiers are coming home. With danger of Prussianizing the world is gone and gone forever. With the military Victory we have won the moral victory, too, and with it we have assumed a moral obligation.

In the Belgium of Asia four million Christian and Jews are face to face with death from starvation, a deplorable condition resulting from the ravages of war and the cruel and inhuman persecution of these unfortunate people.

More men are slain in massacres of Armenians and Syrians by the Turks than fell fighting in the trenches. Those who survive are now in imminent danger of starvation and of these 400,000 are little children.

Armenians are a race without a national government. The people cannot borrow relief funds from America because no representatives exist who are qualified to pledge the country's income to liquidate the debt. The four million who will die unless relieved this winter can look only to America.

The work of the Committee for Relief in the Near East is endorsed by the President, by the National and Indiana Councils of Defense.

Thirty million dollars are to be raised in the United States in January. Indiana's quota is $629,172, or the amount necessary to save 21,000 lives. Unless we do our share, so many people will perish.

I desire to ask, therefore, that the period from January 23 to January 31 will be utilized in Indiana for registering our generosity and our answer to this pitiful appeal. We must not abandon to starvation the lives our boys fought to save.

JAMES P. GOODRICH.

REVIVAL TO OPEN AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Evangelistic Meetings will be in Charge of A. P. Renn of Indianapolis, Beginning Sunday.
Both are Qualified for Work, Having Been Associated With Dr. Biedewolf in Meetings.

Revival meetings will open at the First Baptist church Sunday, with Evangelist A. P. Renn in charge, assisted by Henry A. Bockemeyer, singer. Both have been associated with Dr. Biedewolf in some of his great union tabernacle evangelistic campaigns.

HENRY A. BOCKEMEYER.

Mr. Renn is a college and seminary graduate. He spent a few years in the pastorate before he entered the evangelistic work and understands intimately the pastor's perplexing problems. Mr. Renn is a man among men, a real preacher of the gospel. In many fields, where others have failed, Mr. Renn has prayed, worked and won. He calls into play every faculty, coaxing, exhorting, pleading, and inch by inch he gains the love and esteem of his audience, according to reports from places he has held meetings.

Mr. Bockemeyer who will have charge of the music, is a director of more than ordinary ability. He has a strong sweet voice which has been cultivated with extreme care. He will have a chorus choir of about forty voices to assist him in the music part of the meeting.

The local Baptist church is specially fortunate in securing the services of these men for these meetings. They will make their first appearance at the services next Sunday morning. The pastor is specially anxious to see all the members of the church present and also extends a most cordial invitation to every one in the community to attend these meetings. The meetings will continue all next week, beginning each evening at 7.30. Services for next Sunday include Sunday school at 9.30, Preaching at 10.45 and 7.30 p. m. Mr. Renn will preach at both these services. All are welcome.

TO GATHER INFORMATION

Agents to Gather Facts Concerning Farm Land For Soldiers

Washington, Jan. 24—Agricultural agents of railroads have been instructed to gather all available information concerning farm lands along their lines open for lease or occupation by returning soldiers, it was disclosed yesterday in the report of the railroad administration's division of traffic, headed by Edward Chambers, covering the year 1913. This is in furtherance of Secretary Lane's plan for encouraging reclamation of lands by discharged soldiers.

The report also indicated that the railroad administration hopes to put into effect, as soon as the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved, the uniform class scale rates recently submitted to the commission and to State commissions.

Don't Cough Until Weak
Tired out and weakened with persistent coughing, elderly people are in no condition to resist disease, and can not easily ward off more serious sickness.
FOLEY'S HONEY-TAR helps coughs quickly. It brings quick relief from day and night coughs, whether they result from cold, lagrippe, bronchial affection or tickling throat.
Mrs. Mary Kibby, an elderly lady of Spokane, Wash., 3533 Princeton Ave., writes: "I was sick in bed with lagrippe, and had a very bad cough. I thought it a good time to try Foley's Honey and Tar, so began taking it. It stopped my cough, and I got better. So now I am round the house again. I am 75 years old, and as long as I live will praise Foley's Honey and Tar."

AMERICAN HOUSES OPENED IN ROME

To Further the Industrial Relations Between The United States
And Italy

All Representatives to Italy Will
Have Headquarters Here And
Will be Helped

Rome, Dec. 20.— (By Mail).—
Thanks to the generosity of Italian
financial and commercial interests

of its own in the Eternal City.

The Palazzo Salviati, one of the
famous group of historic family pal-
aces that line the Corso Umberto,
formerly the Flaminian way, has just been purchased by the big banking interests of Italy, re-christened "La Casa dell'America" or
"The American House" and placed
at the disposition of all societies,
organizations and movements that
have for their objects the furthering
of commercial, financial, social and
industrial relations between the United States and Italy.

The project was planned by Minister of Provisions Crespi, who
through his contact with American Food Administrator Hoover became
convinced of the great mutual benefit to be derived by Italy and America through closer relations. The

money for the purchase of the palace was put up by the 4 leading banking institutions of Italy.

The Salviati palace, which is near
the entrance of the Corso Umberto
into Piazza Venezia, or where the Flaminian way formerly led up to
the Capitoline hill, is surrounded by the other equally historic palaces of
the Odescalchi and Doria families.
Its interior furnishings and decorations will be kept intact as far as is possible.

The 1st floor of the palace will be occupied by the central headquarters of the Italian-American league,
of which Senator Ruffini is president and which has for its object promoting every possible relation between the American and Italian peoples.

The 2nd floor will be given over
to the offices of financial organizations that are especially interested in Italian and American stocks and
bonds.

Still other portions of the palace
will be given over to the societies
and organizations promoting interests along special lines between the United States and Italy.

In the future American manufacturing, business and financial institutions, sending representatives to Italy to establish relations, will find permanent headquarters at the American House and every facility necessary to enable them to attain their ends.

FRENCH COLORS ON GERMAN UNIFORMS

Rhinelands When Alsations Returned From Bondage.

TEAR OFF 'BOCHE' INSIGNA

These Homeward Bound German
Speaking and Uniformed Crowds
Shouting "Vive La France."

By FRANK J. TAYLOR.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Strassburg, Dec. 17. (By Mail).—
German uniforms and French tri-colors were not made to go on the same man, but they got to be a common sight in the Rhinelands, as the Alsations returned from bondage in
the German army. The first thing an Alsation bought when he got to Strassburg or another liberated city
was a set of red, white and blue
colors.

The general demoralization of the German army that followed the signing of the armistice was the opportunity Alsations had waited for and expected since the war began. Few Alsation troops were used for actual fighting in the Alsace-Lorraine part of the line. They refused to fight
there against the French. The Germans, by using anti-English propaganda, were able to make the Alsa-tions fight in Belgium, where most of them were when the armistice
came.

Alsation soldiers and officers then collected in groups and sent petitions to the high commands demanding their release immediately. In every instance the Prussian commanders refused these demands. Generally the Alsations began deserting, often in groups, though thousands did so as individuals. The crumbling of the German army and overthrowing of officers gave the Alsations a chance to climb on trains
for home.

They arrived at the Rhine bridges
in streams, and were asked by the French guards if they were Alsa-tions. The answer was just as likely to be a German "Ja" as a French
"Oui". However, it made no difference. The only formality for passing the outpost post was tearing off all "boche" insignia, and throwing it into the Rhine. German uniforms
wer allowed, owing to the scarcity
of cloth for civilian clothes, and the
tri-colors served to make them more presentable. It was an odd sight,
these happy homeward bound German-speaking German-uniformed

PEPSINCO
Helped Her Stomach!

I just suffered
everything. Nothing agreed with me at all. A few minutes after eating I had pain,
sourness and as
a rule would belch bad tasting
stuff.

I tried doctors; I tried medicines; all without effect. Pepsinco was recommended. I honestly believe
that I can thank Pepsinco
for my good health to-day.

I can eat anything and I am without pain. I would suggest that if there is anything wrong with your stomach, that you go to any drug store and get a

WEAKNESS REMAINS LONG AFTER Influenza

Reports Show That Strength,
Energy and Ambition Return Very Slowly to Grippe
Patients.

After an attack of influenza, doctors advise that nature be assisted
in its building-up process by the use of a good tonic—one that will
not only put strength and endur-
help to build up and strengthen the
run-down cells of the brain.

One of the most highly recommended remedies to put energy in-
to both body and brain is Bio-feren
—your physician knows the formula—it is printed below.

There's iron in Bio-feren—the kind of iron that makes red blood
corpuscles and creates vigor. There
is lecithin also; probably the best
brain invigorator known to science.
Then there is good old reliable gen-
tian, that brings back your lagging
appetite.

There are other ingredients that help to promote good health, as you can see by reading this formula, not forgetting kolo, that great agent that puts the power of endurance into weak people.

Taken altogether Bio-feren is a splendid active tonic that will greatly help any weak, run-down
person to regain normal strength,
energy, ambition and endurance.

Bio-feren is sold by all reliable
druggists and is inexpensive. For weakness after influenza patients
are advised to take two tablets
after each meal and one at bed
time—seven a day, until health, strength and vigor are fully restored.

It will not fail to help you and if for any reason you are dissatisfied with results your druggist is authorized to return your money
upon request—without any red tape
of any kind.

Note to Physicians: There is no
secret about the formula of Bio-
feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycerophosphate; Iron Peptonate;
Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nuc.
Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phos-
phorothalein; Olearin Capsicum; Kolo.

worse than this if you can't stand at attention, and salute when an officer passes."

"We were then quizzed in a little dugout just behind the front line trench—each separately, of course. The odd part of it was that although we had had no previous understanding, we all happened to give exactly the same answers—as we found out later in comparing notes.

"Later, if myself was present at 300 other quizzings of prisoners. (The Germans used me as an interpreter). The Germans always asked just 3 questions—I hardly remember a single variation. First, how many Americans are there in France?—Second, is there any American artillery? Third, tell what you know about the conveying of troops.

"That day we all answered that there were three million Americans in France, but no American artillery so far as we knew. Most of us said the troopships came in convoys of from 20 to 40 ships. I told them I had come over on the Mauretania, unescorted.

"Then they forced us to march 30 kilometers to a village which I think was Kamecke. It was pretty tough, I can tell you. You see, all but two of us were wounded, and some of the fellows had all they could do to hobble along. All the attention we had received was a little first aid in that dugout.

"I was in a hospital at Kamecke a month. They fed us on bread and watery soup.

"After I had begun to mend, they removed me to the Giessen prison camp. Then I was taken to Darmstadt, and finally to Tüchel, where I stayed until the armistice.

"The first thing they did was to take off our shoes and give us wooden slippers. The next was to tell us to get to work.

"Still all we had to eat was a little black bread and watery soup.

"After 4 months of hard manual labor we were so weak we couldn't walk.

"One day a German general visited the camp, accompanied by a man who said he was an American newspaperman. We refused to believe him at first, thinking it was another German trick to put us off our guard. He was continually asking us if we had any message to send the home folks.

"Finally one of our crowd called out, 'If you tell the folks anything, tell them we never expect to see them again. Before long we shall all be over there in that graveyard near the camp, where 30,000 Russians are already buried.'

The Germans are slowly starving us to death."

"Well, the general got pretty red in the face and said it was all a lie.

"But the next week, a bunch of American Red Cross packages showed up, each with 22 pounds of food. After that, they appeared regularly, and we grew fat and strong. We never ate another bite of German food. We turned our prison rations over to the Russians in the camp with us, while we had the time of our lives eating good old American food.

"No, I don't know a thing about internal conditions in Germany. The people may be starving or wallowing in plenty for all I know. They never let us outside the prison fence except when they took us to the train after the armistice. And as the railroad seemed to run through a desolate uninhabited part of the country, we didn't get a chance to get a line on things then.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

Don't Let Worms Kill Your Hogs

Free intestinal and stomach worms are those that do not attach themselves to the intestines or stomach. Worms which attach themselves to the stomach or intestines are properly called "Blood Suckers" and nothing will expel the "blood sucking worms" after they are formed.

The Thorn Headed Worm is a "blood sucker" and nothing will expel them after they are formed. They have a mass of thorns or hooks about the head and not only attach themselves to the intestines, but bury the head into and clear through the intestines. THE THORN HEADED WORM can be positively prevented by feeding ACME WORM BOUNCER from birth to maturity.

FIRST YANK TAKEN BY GERMANS TALKS

Platoon Messenger in the Sixteenth U. S. Infantry, Captured Morning of November 3

Marched Through No Man's Land, Taken to German Dugout and Closely Quizzed

London, Dec. 23 (By Mail)—Here is the story of the first American soldier to be taken prisoner by the Germans in the war as he told it today, sitting in a comfy armchair in the American Red Cross headquarters on Grosvenor Gardens.

His name is John P. Lester, of Tutwiler, Miss. He was a platoon-messenger in the 16th U. S. Infantry. He was captured the morning of Nov. 3, 1917, in company with 10 other doughboys—all that was left of a platoon of 16 sent into a front line trench in the Toul sector the night before to relieve a platoon of tired poilus.

Here is the story: "A German aviator spotted us soon after daylight, and began circling over us, signalling back to his artillery. We let go at him with our guns, but couldn't hit him. Next we knew the Germans put down a box barrage on all sides of us, completely cutting our salient off from the rest of the system and 300 field-grays came over the top.

"We blazed away at 'em until our ammunition was gone. Five of us were killed and all but 2 wounded. I was hit 3 times in the leg. And then they were upon us.

"A German corporal and 4 men jumped down into the trench beside me and told me to get a move on. I believe I was the first to be taken. They marched us across No Man's Land and into one of their own front ditches.

I never will forget the trip through that trench. We had not gone far before our feet began striking against bodies of German soldiers, lying there twisted up on the floor of the trench. As we reached a more active salient, the number of corpses increased. I remember how our shoes slipped over the heads of the dead Germans, how their bodies yielded slightly under the pressure of our weight, how the skin of their faces was bruised as we tramped over them.

"The first time our party halted, I leaned against the wall of the trench, unscathed, and exhausted. My leg had begun to throb terribly.

"But I was brought to my senses in a minute or two by a fist-blow on the face. In front of me stood two German officers. The other one struck me on the back of the neck, shouting in German—(I understood German). 'You will get a good deal

WHITE HOUSE IS VERY QUIET NOW

Quiet Prevails While the President And the First Lady Are Over In Europe

Washington, Jan. 24.—Secret service men, cooks, maids and the greater number of the retinue of folk attached to the Executive Mansion are on leave these days. The stream of diplomats and celebrities usually to be found in the reception room at the western extremity of the building, has dwindled to an occasional visit of friends of Secretary Tumulty or the remaining few others in the executive offices.

At night one or two lonesome lights gleam from the windows. Passers-by who are obviously visitors in Washington look toward the building with interest but without eagerness. A returned soldier, small hands of women and now and then a small group of Englishmen temporarily in America or other foreign folk appear asking to be shown the interior of the White House.

Quiet prevails at the Executive Mansion while the President and First Lady are away. The atmosphere is much the same as in the summer months of ordinary times when the President removes to the summer white house. Then, however, the President takes with him the executive force, which he left behind on the European trip.

On Mondays, unless something of greater importance interferes, the cabinet members indifferently congregate for the meeting, at which Vice-Pres. Marshall is always late. Other days Secretary Tumulty comes down about 10 A. M.

Outside since the first of the year two suffragists who are keeping a vigil to express their disapproval of the President, occasionally toss a speech into the wash-tub where the National Woman's Party's "eternal fire" is burning. The guards, who remain to keep a watch over the grounds and gateways, observe these ladies with indifferent interest.

Anywhere from 2 P. M. to 5.30 Mr. Tumulty leaves, accompanied by some one—sometimes the familiar figure of some Democrat, but more often with a person whose entire manner and bearing give the assurance that he is not a personage.

Mr. Dalrymple, who has been a White House guard for many years, opens the door and closes it. Mr. Tumulty's car moves away. Mr. Dalrymple observes that we should be having some snow pretty soon, and brushes an imaginary bit of lint from his trousers.

BORDER TOWN HAS
SPASMODIC LIFE

Belgarde is Town of Watchful Waiting, Last Stop From France To Switzerland.

AN IDEAL JUMPING OFF POINT

Belgarde, Swiss Border, Dec. 25.—(By Mail).—Belgarde is the city of watchful waiting. It isn't very often anyone compliments this little group of houses and a railroad between mountain peaks straddling the ravine of the Rhone by calling it a city.

Belgarde is the last stop in France on the way to Switzerland, and everyone going either way is stopped here to be examined. The point was probably picked because you can get out in no way except by railroad, unless you climb Alpine mountain peaks covered with snow. Belgarde is an ideal jumping off point.

Your papers are examined, and your baggage, and you are informed that the frontier is closed. It has been closed since the war began, except for a few hours at a time, or sometimes a day or so, when the frontier is suddenly opened on a few hours notice. Then is the time to rush across.

There is no set time for opening the frontier, and no reason for choosing any certain time. There are no suspicious characters to avoid because everyone in Belgarde is allowed to grab his baggage and clamor on the train for Geneva. No one knows just who opens the border or why—a mysterious order comes from somewhere, and those who have been willing to "stick around and wait" are allowed to proceed to Switzerland.

Belgarde is alternately filled to brim with people and emptied to the hotel keepers and a few townspeople. The night before the frontier opens there are people sleeping in the station, in cars, and everywhere, for want of rooms. The night it is opened there are rooms everywhere bare of occupants. The hotel keepers live for and by the closing of the frontier.

This peculiar French system has had the desired effect, according to officials, of discouraging travel to Switzerland, though it has done nothing to keep questionables from crossing. Frequently it has meant serious delays in important business when officials have been held up. Once the frontier remained tight for more than 25 days. There was suffering among the watchful waiters, many of whom had the best reasons for passing at once. But it made no difference at Belgarde. Finally, the mysterious word came from a certain French headquarters, and pent-up Belgarde was relieved of its ill-humored population.

Boundary lines and frontiers seem to be Belgarde's Nemesis. Within itself, the little town has a frontier. You go down to one end of crooked, steep Main street, or whatever it is called, and buy yourself a cake of chocolate where they have lots of it in stores. They try to bring that cake of chocolate back to your hotel.

The sentry in the box of the middle of the block by the bridge over the raging Rhone rapids stop you. You can't import chocolate to the other province without permission. Your end of the block is in one province and the chocolate end is in another. That explains why there is no chocolate in your end. You can stand there and eat the chocolate in front of the sentry, and then pass to your hotel—but you can't carry it in your hand.

That's Belgarde and the French boundary.

JANE OCHILTREE DIES

Jane Elizabeth, the 18 months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ochiltree died last night at 10 p. m. at the home of her parents, southeast of Falmouth, of croup followed by pneumonia. The funeral services and burial will take place Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in the Fairview cemetery.

MEETS RICHMOND TONIGHT

Rushville Five Will Enter Game With Slight Handicap.

The Rushville high school basketball team will go to Richmond tonight to meet the fast quintet of that place, with the odds slightly against them. Although the local five won from Richmond here by a narrow margin, they will be on a much larger floor, which is strange to them, tonight and they will be handicapped by the loss of Tompkins, center, who has not recovered sufficiently from injuries sustained two weeks ago, to play. Norris, floor guard, however, fills Tompkins' place very creditably and Becker is playing well at guard. A number of local fans will attend the game.

Ever Kick a Battery to Pieces?

Of course you wouldn't do it intentionally. No good driver would.

But a lot of experienced drivers of trucks and passenger cars have kicked their batteries to pieces without even knowing it by banging on the starting button when the motor didn't take hold at once.

Perhaps the trouble was just thick oil.

Maybe water had accumulated in the carburetor.

Possibly a connection had worked loose.

But whatever it was the battery had to suffer.

You can get far longer life from your battery, and incidentally from your whole car if you'll always be sure where the trouble is and correct it just as soon as you locate it.

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

BY N. B. COOK, M. D.

Foods taken into the stomach go through various chemical changes, and some of these changes are poisons that must be sifted out and disposed of. It is the duty of the kidneys to do this. When the kidneys do not fully perform their vital work, death may be only a few hours away. Happily, Nature has provided warning alarms telling people when their kidneys are not well. These warnings come in the form of dragging pains in the small of the back, weak stomach, low spirits, chills, nausea, headache, scanty urine and frequent desire to pass it, short breath, numbness, cramps, coated tongue, bad breath, puffiness under the eyes, thin blood, dry skin, ringing in the ears, spots before the eyes and many other symptoms. All come from the one cause of kidneys that are not filtering the poisons out of the system. To overcome these troubles, Dr. Pierce's, of Buffalo, N. Y., compounded what he calls Anuric Tablets. No other kidney medicine is its equal in giving relief and re-establishing healthful work in the kidneys. The treatment is very simple, as you need nothing except water when taking Anuric Tablets—a glass of water with each tablet. This washes and flushes the kidneys while the medicine itself is dissolving the uric acid poisons and driving them out. Anuric Tablets are made double strength, so that they dissolve uric acid the same as hot water dissolves salt or sugar. Most people need Anuric Tablets because most people have uric acid. Better get that poison out of your body for safety's sake, and better begin today.

To gently and agreeably coax the bowels back into normal activity, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are just as good for constiveness as his Anuric Tablets are good for kidney disorders, and that is saying a great deal.

Anderson Has Record of Which to be Proud.

(By United Press.)

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 24.—Eleven aviators from Anderson is the record which the county of Madison county claims its official war record for the air service. This list of eleven includes observers and one "ace" but no men who were not fliers.

Lieutenant H. Weir Cook, who went to France as an ambulance driver is the "ace." He probably was the last man in France to win the distinction before the armistice was signed. Ensign Harold Atherton, who also served in France as an ambulance driver returned to America and enlisted in the Naval Aviation Corp. He was on duty in England when the armistice was signed, having served twice overseas.

"Man cometh up as a flower and is cut down; he fleeth as a shadow and continueth not," for life, death and eternity are the stages of human pilgrimage, and through all the centuries since the dawn of Creation men have put this query to their own souls: "If a man die, shall he live again?" Men baffled and defeated with age and care, men strong and vigorous and buoyant in life's fair prime, men to whom life was sweet and whose future held much of promise have felt this question in their throbbing heart-beats. To some the answer has been vague and uncertain; to some the answer came in vibrant, ringing triumph, because these could say, "I know that my Redeemer liveth, and because He lives I shall live also." "I know that though worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh, I shall see God."

Sylvester Colvin was born May 14th, 1844, in Vinton county, Ohio. He was the son of Elisha and Amy Bevington Colvin and was one of a family of seven children. Very suddenly on the evening of December 4th, 1918, "God's finger touched him and he slept," his earthly sojourn being 74 years, 6 months, 10 days.

On September 25th, 1872, he was united in marriage to Anna Winchell, daughter of William Giltner Winchell and Sarah Stevens Winchell, who preceded him to the City Eternal August 11th, 1908.

To this union were born five children, two sons, Willie and Frank and three daughters, Mrs. Enos McKibben, Miss Mary ad Mrs. John Murphy.

On December 5th, 1910, he was married to Mrs. Laura Hargitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown, of Indianapolis.

Those of his immediate family who survive him are his wife, his three daughters, five grand-sons, one great-grandson, three sisters and a wide circle of other relatives and friends.

In the early eighties he emigrated to Missouri where he resided for about twenty years, when he returned to Rush county, Indiana and purchased the home east of New Salem where he has since then lived.

Many years ago, he became identified with the old Friendship Methodist Protestant church under the ministrations of the late Reverend S. M. Lowden. After his return from Missouri, he and his family united with the Methodist Protestant church in New Salem, during the pastorage of the Reverend Herman Schwarz Kopf.

He served his country well and faithfully during the Civil War and received an honorable discharge.

During the years that are past he was an up-to-date and progressive farmer and a keen, shrewd business man.

Thus, every moment, from all the diverse and manifold fields of action, life's harvesters disappear. Every moment some one is engulfed in the surging waters of eternity and hidden forever from human sight. Wise is he who looks only to the illimitable future for solace and mourns not the sorrows that are past, striving always to realize that, all these earthly trials are part of God's wise plan, and sometime when we shall with clearer vision, the purpose of the Infinite will be revealed, all our doubts and weaknesses and failures shall be eliminated, and out of the tangled discords of our lives, may God form, for each of us a beautiful, symmetrical harmony, with souls so purified and glorified as to be worthy a place among the redeemed in the City Eternal.

Keep The Kidneys Well

Many Rushville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Rushville citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. Lizzie Boren, 840 W. Ninth St., says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. What bothered me the worst was my kidneys acting irregularly and they showed in a number of ways they were badly disordered. I was told I had gravel. I heard how someone else had been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wolcott's Drug Store. They helped me at once and after I had taken four boxes, the pain had left and I felt a great deal better.

Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Boren had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

MEMBERS FAVOR NON PARTISAN ELECTION

Ballots To Show no Indication as to Political Organization Judicial Candidate Belongs

NOMINATED BY PETITION

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—The bill introduced by Representative Clinton H. Givan of Indianapolis, providing for non partisan election of judges, is meeting with considerable favor among many members of the lower house.

The bill provides that the ballots on which the names of candidates for judges appear, shall include no indication as to what political organization the candidate for judge belongs. Under this bill a candidate for judge would be compelled to make his race for office independent of his political organizations. A prison sentence of not less than one year in the state penitentiary and not more than five years is fixed as the penalty, in addition to a fine of from $25 to $500 for violation of the law.

Should the bill become a law, candidates for judges would be nominated only by petition, as they would not be eligible to participate in any form of a primary election, or be nominated by a political convention. It is pointed out in connection with the bill that thoroughly would be or not encouragement for judges to take part in political campaigns and therefore there would be greater justice forthcoming in the handling of cases.

Amusements

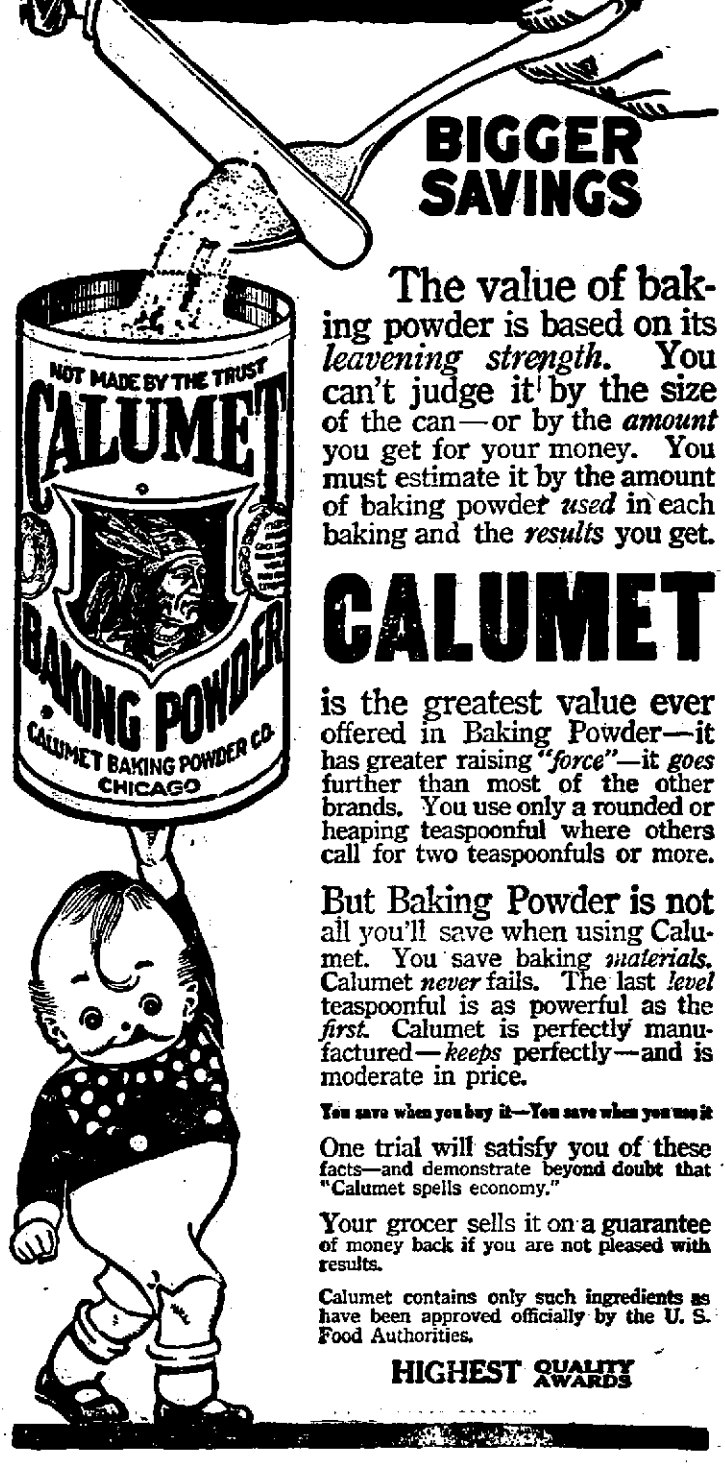

"She Walked in Her Sleep."

"People do all sorts of queer things when they walk in their sleep" idiomatically explains the physician in "She Walked in Her Sleep" the Mark Swan farce which George Broadhurst will present at the Shubert Murat Theatre for one week commencing January 27 with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. And upon this promise the author has worked out some rattling moments of hilarious entertainment. For four months playgoers in the metropolis have been enjoying the exploits of the fair somnambulist and now Indianapolis is to have its opportunity of passing judgment on the play.

It would be hard indeed to thread more tangled set of complications in a stage plot than Mr. Swan has done in this three act conceit. To start with, the sleepwalker—a very charming young woman as impersonated by Alberta Burton—does her promenading on the narrow ledge of the wall of an apartment hotel, sixteen stories above the street. She climbs into a room at will, taking the portable belongings of the occupants, strewing knitting and other hand paraphernalia about, ignoring the startled exclamation of those with whom she comes in contact and generally leaving a mysterious trail and a buzz of awed speculations and whispered comments. She walks away on one of her nocturnal expeditions with a priceless vial of explosives and precipitates all manner of complications.

BIGGER SAVINGS

The value of baking powder is based on its leavening strength. You can't judge it by the size of the can—or by the amount you get for your money. You must estimate it by the amount of baking powder used in each baking and the results you get.

is the greatest value ever offered in Baking Powder—it has greater raising "force"—it goes further than most of the other brands. You use only a rounded or heaping teaspoonful where others call for two teaspoonfuls or more.

But Baking Powder is not all you'll save when using Calumet. You save baking materials. Calumet never fails. The last level teaspoonful is as powerful as the first. Calumet is perfectly manufactured—keeps perfectly—and is moderate in price.

You save when you buy it—You save when you use it

One trial will satisfy you of these facts—and demonstrate beyond doubt that "Calumet spells economy."

Your grocer sells it on a guarantee of money back if you are not pleased with results.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

HIGHEST QUALITY AWARDS

TO HONOR DEAD HEROES IN CATHEDRAL WALLS

Construction of Cathedral of St. John Which Was Interrupted by War Will be Resumed

VAST SUMS ARE CONTRIBUTED

(By United Press.)

New York, Dec. 31.—Work on construction of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, which had been in progress about 25 years when it was interrupted by the war, will be resumed immediately.

This cathedral, situated on Morningside Heights, on almost the highest ground in Manhattan, is designed by the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York to be much the largest church edifice in the Western Hemisphere, and it is estimated that at least 100 years will be required for its completion.

As soon as the treaty of peace is signed Bishop David H. Greer and Dean Howard Chandler Robins will announce a plan for incorporating in the walls of the cathedral nave memorials for Americans who died in the world war. Memorial tablets of stone or metal will be placed on the walls of the nave. Relatives of soldiers who desire such memorials will contribute certain sums, and these contributions will be used to finance a large part of the construction.

world. We today need not be ashamed to believe in Him and accept Him as our Redeemer. His gospel is worthy of the thought of the wisest on earth. The strangest thing in this strange gospel story is the deliberate rejection of the Saviour by thousands of those to whom it is preached. Like the men of Athens people say we will hear thee again of this matter. Others say the gospel story is childish and not for strong minded men.

"The men of Athens is the final judgment will stand to witness against us. They will be able to say, Paul came to Athens once and preached to us Jesus and the resurrection. If we believe not, you and I will remember with the bitterness of despair that we heard the story again and again, but treated it as an idle tale. Let us learn to the saving of our immortal souls, the newest and the strangest story that has ever been told on earth."

KERENSKY LIVING QUIET LIFE NOW

of Friends on Cambridge Stairs

RESTDYING DOCUMENTS

Seldom Leaves Friends Home, Except to Take a Walk in Regent
Park

By EDWIN HULLINGER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Dec. 25. (By Mail).—Alexander Kerensky, former dictator of Russia, is living quietly in the home of a friend on Cambridge Stairs Terrace, by Regent Park, in London.

In his little study, which he occupies a large part of the day, he is preparing his memoirs, re-reading and re-studying documents which once represented the destiny of Russia, and dictating to his Russian stenographer, who can write shorthand in four languages.

Kerensky has just finished a book on the Korniloff mutiny.

He seldom goes outside his friend's beautiful cozy little house. Once every day he walks alone through the winding, graveled paths of Regent Park just across the

He likes music, plays the piano fairly well, and sings. He knows by heart an enormous volume of Russian vocal music. Often he sits at the piano in the little parlor on the second story, and sings through one Russian master after another.

Sometimes he stops singing to think of his wife and two little boys, hostages in Moscow, imprisoned by the Bolsheviks soon after the great debate, and later released from prison when Mrs. Kerensky signed a pledge they would not leave Russia.

It is an exquisite little room, this second-floor parlor, finished in gray with a monster white polar bear rug on the middle of the floor, several big gray-upholstered cushiony armchairs and a wonderful couch into which you sink as into a feather bed when you sit down.

One wall is a bank of French windows, through which creep the gray lights of a London day. A fire in a fire place at one end gives a homey touch to the scene.

Kerensky was a lawyer in Russia before the revolution. He is still interested in law and devotes part of his time to legal question.

He is a man of remarkable personality. He has a smile that wins you at first meeting, a real, friendly like smile that convinces you right away he is interested in you. He is direct and unaffected. He talks immediately to the point, like an American business man, without flourish.

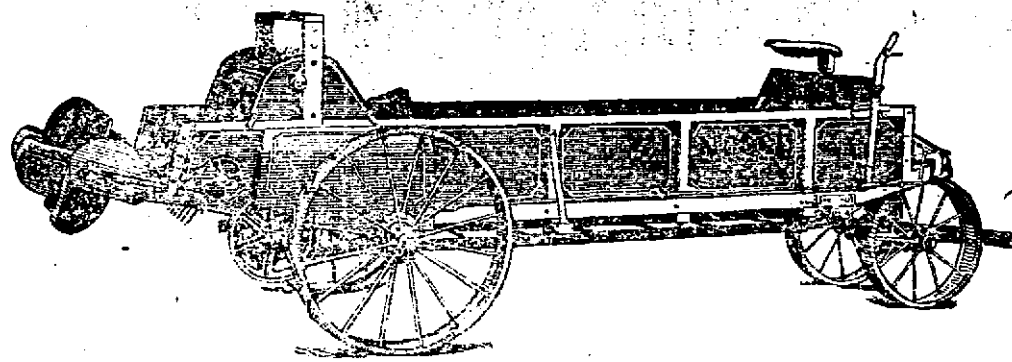

He has a wonderful reserve power.

His face is sensitive and extremely expressive. He can look the most delightfully amused one moment and the next the most tremendously sober. Like most leaders of men, he focuses his mind completely upon each separate incident, and never allows his perception of the present instant to be clouded by hang-over impressions from the past.

OFFERS FARM AS MEMORIAL

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 23.—Martin T. Krueger, formerly mayor here, has offered a farm of eighty acres at the edge of this city to be dedicated as a memorial park in honor of Michigan City's war heroes.

Blind British soldiers and sailors who had learned to row at Saint Dunstan's Hostel, took part in a series of races at the Marlow Rowing club—steered by the sisters of St. Dunstan's. There were 21 single scull entries.

This The Original Wide Spread Spreader

And on account of this feature and the simplicity, durability and dependability of it the makers claim to have reached the three-fifth mark of all the spreader sales made in America in 1917. The other manufacturers, seeing this have copied it until today there are several so-called wide spreaders on the market, but there is none that will beat it in any respect. Come to E. A. Lee and get the original, built by a firm which was the first to solve the spreader problem, by 18 years of successful spreader building. We have them at the right price, having placed our order at a time before the two last advances. The conditions are such that they can't be cheaper for some time. If you need a spreader—have work for one—you will find it worth more to you to use than to wait for a better price.

Your neighbors have them—Bert Eakins, Knecht & Gartin, Omer Hall, Clyde Wilson, Cleve Geise, Elmer Emsweller, George Green, Russell Harrison, Frank Wilson, Clarksburg, James Clark, Clarksburg, Russell Orme, O. L. Carr, W. A. Alexander, and others. Talk to them about their work.

Reading Advertisements has helped to make this a united country

Jim Hawkins props his feet on the rose festooned porch railing in an Oregon suburb and reads the same motor car advertisement that Cousin Peter is studying as he rides home from work in the new York subway.

In Arizona you can buy the same tooth paste and tobacco that are used by the folks in Maine.

California fruit growers advertise their oranges and lemons to the people of the East. New Hampshire factories make ice cream freezers for Texas households.

There can be no division in a country so bound together by taste, habit and custom.

You can meet up with anybody in the United States and quickly get on a conversational footing because you both read the same advertisements.

Advertising is the daily guide to what's good to buy. Advertisements give you the latest news from the front line of business progress.

Reading advertisements enables you to get more for your money, because they tell you where, what and when to buy.

And it is a well known fact that advertised goods are more reliable and better value than the unadvertised kinds.

YANKS WILL NOT GO BACK TO MARRY

Not Many American Who Have Been Overseas Will Wed French Girls
is Predicted by Officers

Most Men are Coming Back to Marry
the Girl They Left Behind in the States.

(By United Press.)

New York, Jan. 24.—Are American men who have been overseas going back to marry French girls?

"No," is the answer of 14 out of 15 returned officers, according to a Y. W. C. A. representative here who has been interviewing returning officers on this subject.

The consensus of opinion of those interviewed gives the reason thus: The French girl is not what American men call a pal. She knows how to cook, to sew, to make love. She can be a sweetheart. She is not a pal. Her horizon too often is limited to the home. Her life is lived within doors. She can never replace the American girl for all around intelligence, activities and ambitions. Most of all the American men miss in her the playfellow they have known at home—the girl with the tennis racket, the girl who loves to hike long and to swim and ride.

Will the men go back to France? "Absolutely," say returned Americans. "But that is because of the call of Paris, the carefree life in the cities over there, the thrill and the romance of the atmosphere of France. In fact, most of the men are coming back to marry the girls they left behind, and then they probably will try to return to France and take their American girl wives with them to see the world."

But it may not be ill advised for the American girl to say to the returning men, "You'd better hurry." For the Y. W. C. A. is trying to help the French girl "catch up" with her

American sister in outdoor activities. This organization is sending women over all the time to teach outdoor sports of every sort, and even now many French girls have discarded the much slandered French heel. In fact there is a whole island in the Loire River given over to outdoor life and physical training.

Over 115 secretaries are in France doing after-war work. The Red Cross nurses huts were built and equipped by the Red Cross. They were then turned over to the Y. W. C. A. as a cooperating organization, and the latter has furnished the workers for the huts and maintained the upkeep of them. About 50 of the secretaries now across are engaged in this work. With the return to this country of the nurses, the Y. W. C. A. secretaries thus engaged probably will be transferred to work of other kinds.

None but highly trained women are being sent over by the Y. W. C. A. Almost all who have gone, or are going over, are college graduates. All have had experience along some particular line of work. Many are industrial experts.

leading colleges. Miss Margaret Morris, formerly professor of history at Mt. Holyoke College, Mass., is at the head of the nurses' work. Miss Mary McDowell, known as Aunt of the Stockyards, of Chicago, perhaps more familiar with the twists and kinks in the woman's industrial world than almost any other American woman, is in France, doing a special piece of work for the association.

Miss Mary Dingman, of New York City and Paterson, N. J., who went over when America went into the fray and who was supervised building and maintaining of the 16 foyers is now in this country and expects to return to France very soon to direct the industrial work.

It seems probable that if the Y. W. C. A. is able to complete the program started in France, French women will be able to meet American freedom with a new but intensely real French freedom.

Frail, Sickly Children Improve Rapidly on Vinol

The reason we so strongly recommend Vinol for frail, sickly children is because it is a non-secret remedy which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Glycerophosphates—but no oil—the very elements needed to build them up. It is delicious to the taste, and children love it.

These Two Mothers Have Proved This.

Bainbridge, N.Y.

"My little daughter, 13 years old, overworked and was run-down, tired all the time, nervous, had headaches, couldn't eat, and I had to stay out of school. Vinol has built her up. She has a good appetite, no more headaches and has returned to school again."—Mrs. Lester Andrews.

Williamson, W. Va.

"My little boy was weak, puny, and tired all the time, did not want to do anything. Vinol was recommended and it built up his strength and made him healthy. Now he romps and plays like other children. We certainly believe in Vinol for children."—Harley Clay.
